 - c. Non-native speakers will have little motivation to embrace their new culture.
 - d. All the above.
4. Language acquisition theory postulates that:
 - a. The acquisition of language is unconscious and comes about through use, whereas language learning is formal and based upon instruction.
 - b. From infancy, the passionate desire to communicate is the single most important force in language acquisition.
 - c. A language is learned at an "as needed" pace; a young child builds vocabulary and syntactical complexity as her needs grow and change.
 - d. The human mind contains a kind of metalinguistic grid at birth; language acquisition is the process of accepting those syntactical and sound elements that are used in a particular language and repressing elements that are not.
5. A Phoneme is:
 - a. The smallest unit of distinctive sound in any spoken language.
 - b. Sounds that are pronounced with a stop, such as /t/ /b/ /d/ or /sh/.

Once they are together again, they hear an announcement on the loudspeaker that their father is waiting at the front of the store. At that moment, a woman notices that both girls are crying. When she discovers they are lost, she walks with them to the front of the store, a distance of 375 feet, where their father rushes in relief to meet them .

 Altogether, how many feet have been traveled in order for the girls to reunite with their father?
 - a. 2,525 feet

He is pre-literate, a year and a half older than his classmates, and has parents who are neither educated nor English speakers. What research-based strategies can the teacher employ to support this student's special needs?
 - a. Create a learning environment that is serious and dedicated; point out errors in English throughout the day; provide a translator to help with his class work.
 - b. Create a learning environment that is fun and spontaneous; avoid presenting an overly-serious or strict persona; allow the student to take frequent "time outs" when he feels overwhelmed; lower expectations to meet the student's abilities.
 - c. Put consistent classroom routines in place and do not vary them; create a learning environment that reflects joy and discipline in learning; create clearly defined learning expectations and goals; allow the student to work in groups with a variety of other students; permit this student to take ownership of some of his lessons.
