Advances in Sustainable Materials and Resilient Infrastructure

Krishna R. Reddy, Rathish Kumar Pancharathi, Narala Gangadhara Reddy, Suchith Reddy Arukala, 2022-03-12 The edited book comprises invited book chapter contributions from global experts in the field of sustainable materials and resilient infrastructure. The book covers the most critical and emerging topics for creating sustainable solutions for the construction industry, promoting the technologies and monitoring methods for resilient infrastructure. It focuses on sustainable solutions and offers techniques and methodologies to deliver high quality end solutions in civil engineering. In addition, the content provides knowledge based information for the readers to assess, monitor, measure and practice sustainability for resilient infrastructure. The contents of the volume are a blend of academic research work and industrial case studies. It covers the use of sustainable materials like Lime Pozzolona Binders, biopolymers, lignosulphonate, lightweight aggregates made from fly ash, calcinated clay, paper ash and limestone as amendments/ameliorators for soil remediation, development of neo construction materials and composites for civil engineering applications. Design of innovative pavements using alkali activation and pervious concrete for sustainable infrastructure is also discussed. The chapters also highlight the role of civil engineers in achieving UN Sustainable Development Goals, promoting climate change design for urban landscapes and modelling building energy demand. This book is framed to address the principles and practice from the corners of geoenvironment, sustainable construction materials, low carbon materials, energy efficiency and waste management. It is a valuable reference for faculty, researchers, field experts, scientists and practicing engineers.

Policies and Pedagogies of Canadian Offshore Schools

Fei Wang, André Elias Mazawi, 2024-07-08 This book critically examines the international geopolitical, policy, institutional and curricular challenges facing Canadian offshore school programs. Bringing together scholars and practitioners concerned with addressing the pedagogical, organizational, curriculum and policy aspects of this transnational mode of schooling, it represents a ground breaking exploration of K-12 offshore schools within the wider contexts of global geopolitics and forms of soft power. The book examines the vulnerability that arises from having to manoeuvre political, social, geopolitical and economic policy simultaneously in both the host and home/licensing countries. It delves into conflicts within the context of neoliberal economic agendas, neocolonial and geopolitical interests and social class reproduction within host countries. The book is the first scholarly space that questions how international educational initiatives are affected by emerging global threats such as the recent Covid pandemic. Additionally, it unpacks the question of citizenship and its intersections with social class, immigration and sociocultural dynamics. It explores how these intersections forge new paths, not only to mobility but also to new configurations of power and new spaces of politics and identity. With a range of reflexive empirical and theoretical contributions that cover every aspect of offshore schools, the book reassesses the trope of globalization dominated by Eurocentric perspectives. It decompartmentalizes diverse perspectives and insights on the internationalisation of schooling.

opportunities and provides an overview of the challenges and possibilities open to offshore schools in different cultural contexts making it the first comprehensive body of research on this type of schooling This book will be of great value to researchers faculty scholars and postgraduate students working across international and comparative education It will be particularly useful to those interested in the intersections between education and geopolitically situated forms of soft power
