Barber's Turn-of-the-Century Houses George F. Barber, 2012-03-14 At the turn of the twentieth century George F. Barber ran a successful architectural firm. Today surviving examples of Barber's signature designs are the pride of their communities. This architectural snapshot from 1901 features working floor plans and fine drawings of more than eighty of Barber's distinctive dwellings. Specializing in serving a mail order clientele, Barber's company produced catalogs giving floor plans of a convenient and practical character and exterior designs of artistic merit in the various prevailing styles. Loaded with spacious kitchens and double parlors as well as porches and balconies of beautiful classic design, this authentic guide will fascinate architectural historians, preservationists, and home restorers along with anyone interested in Victorian era architecture. Late Victorian

Architectural Plans and Details William T. Comstock, 2013-01-30 This authentic reproduction of plans drawn up by a noted nineteenth century architectural firm features both residential and public buildings. Hundreds of illustrations include floor plans, perspective views, and elevations, as well as designs for staircases, fireplaces, and other interior details. Other drawings depict windows, doors, balconies, and gables. Photographs offer crisp views of exteriors. Victorian architecture buffs will prize this excellent source of authentic period designs. Its 126 plates comprise 87 images of residences; the remaining 39 structures include a field club building, stables, a library, a school, a railroad station, a dry goods store, and a music hall. Captions describe locations, dimensions, costs, and other particulars. Chicago at the Turn of the Century in Photographs Larry A.

Glass, 2024-10-15 As a planned community, Indianapolis boasted finished frame and brick buildings from its beginning. Architects and builders drew on Federal, Greek Revival, Italianate, French Second Empire, Gothic, Romanesque, and Italian Renaissance styles for commercial, industrial, public, and religious buildings, and for residences. In Architecture in Indianapolis 1820-1900, preservationist and architectural historian Dr. James Glass explores the rich variety of architecture that appeared during the city's first 80 years to 1900. Glass explains how economic forces shaped building cycles, such as the Canal Era, the advent of railroads, the natural gas boom, and repeated recessions and recoveries. He describes 243 buildings that illustrate the styles that architects and builders incorporated into the designs that they devised in each era between 1820 and 1900. This book also documents the loss of distinctive 19th century architecture that has occurred in Indianapolis. It includes 373 photographs and drawings that depict the buildings described, and locator maps that show where concentrations of buildings were constructed. Architecture in Indianapolis 1820-1900 provides the first history of 19th century architecture in the city and will serve as an indispensable reference for decades to come. A Field Guide to American Houses Virginia Savage
