Rubens and the Dominican Church in Antwerp Adam Sammut, 2023-05-15 This book is about the Dominican church in Antwerp today St Paul's. It is structured around three works of art made or procured by Peter Paul Rubens: the Fifteen Mysteries of the Rosary cycle in situ, Caravaggio's Rosary Madonna, Vienna, and the Wrath of Christ high altarpiece, Lyon. Within the artist's lifetime, the church and monastery were completely rebuilt, creating one of the most spectacular sacred spaces in Northern Europe. In this richly illustrated book, Adam Sammut reconceptualises early modern churches as theatres of political economy, advancing an original approach to cultural production in a time of war. Using methodologies at the cutting edge of the humanities, the place of St Paul's is restored to the crux of Antwerp's commercial, civic, and religious life.

Architecture and the Language Debate Nicholas Temple, 2020-01-28 This book examines the creative exchanges between architects, artists, and intellectuals from the Early Renaissance to the beginning of the Enlightenment in the forging of relationships between architecture and emerging concepts of language in early modern Italy. The study extends across the spectrum of linguistic disputes during this time among members of the clergy, humanists, philosophers, and polymaths on issues of grammar, rhetoric, philology, etymology, and epigraphy, and how these disputes paralleled and informed important developments in architectural thinking and practice. Drawing upon a wealth of primary source material, such as humanist tracts, philosophical works, architectural antiquarian treatises, epigraphic, philological studies, religious sermons, and grammaticae, the book traces key periods when the emerging field of linguistics in early modern Italy impacted on the theory, design, and symbolism of buildings.

Literature and Identity in Italian Baroque Travel Writing Nathalie Hester, 2008 This first full-length study in English on seventeenth-century Italian travel writing enriches our understanding of an unusually fertile period for Italian contributions to the genre. The intrinsic qualities of this literature can now be grasped in terms of the larger question of cultural identity in Italy For Hester the specifically literary characteristics of Italian travel writing including its humanism or Petrarchism highlight the classic eminence throughout Europe of a prestigious tradition inherent to Italy one compensating then for the peninsula's lack of a national political identity

Urban Space in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Age Albrecht Classen, 2009-12-15 Although the city as a central entity did not simply disappear with the Fall of the Roman Empire the development of urban space at least since the twelfth century played a major role in the history of medieval and early modern mentality within a social economic and religious framework Whereas some poets projected urban space as a new utopia others simply reflected the new significance of the urban environment as a stage where their characters operate very successfully As today the premodern city was the locus where different social groups and classes got together sometimes peacefully sometimes in hostile terms The historical development of the relationship between Christians and Jews for instance was deeply determined by the living conditions within a city By the late Middle Ages nobility and bourgeoisie began to intermingle within the urban space which set the stage for dramatic and far reaching changes in the social and economic make up of society Legal historical aspects also find as much consideration as practical questions concerning water supply and sewer systems Moreover the early modern city within the Ottoman and Middle Eastern world likewise finds consideration Finally as some contributors observe the urban space provided considerable opportunities for women to carve out a niche for themselves in economic terms
