Skills for the Changing Workplace Catharine P. Warmbrod, Marilyn J. Gordon, 1985 Ready to Learn Tara Beteille, Namrata Tognatta, Michelle Riboud, Shinsaku Nomura, Yashodhan Ghorpade, 2020-03-06 Countries that have sustained rapid growth over decades have typically had a strong public commitment to expanding education as well as to improving learning outcomes South Asian countries have made considerable progress in expanding access to primary and secondary schooling with countries having achieved near universal enrollment of the primary school age cohort ages 6-11 except for Afghanistan and Pakistan Secondary enrollment shows an upward trend as well Beyond school many more people have access to skilling opportunities and higher education today Although governments have consistently pursued policies to expand access a prominent feature of the region has been the role played by nonstate actors private nonprofit and forprofit entities in expanding access at every level of education Though learning levels remain low countries in the region have shown a strong commitment to improving learning All countries in South Asia have taken the first step which is to assess learning outcomes regularly Since 2010 there has been a rapid increase in the number of large scale student learning assessments conducted in the region But to use the findings of these assessments to improve schooling countries must build their capacity to design assessments and analyze and use findings to inform policy Mathematics and Teaching Michele D. Crockett, 2008-06-01 Mathematics and Teaching uses case studies to explore complex and pervasive issues that arise in teaching In this volume school mathematics is the context in which to consider race equity political contexts and the broader social and cultural circumstances in which schooling occurs This book does not provide immediate or definitive resolutions Rather its goal is to provoke and facilitate thoughtful discussion about critical issues for professional decision making in mathematics teaching This is the 7th volume in Reflective Teaching and the Social Conditions of Schooling A Series for Prospective and Practicing Teachers edited by Daniel P Liston and Kenneth M Zeichner It follows the same format as previous volumes in the series Part I includes four case studies of classroom experiences Race and Teacher Expectations Mathematics for All Culture and School Mathematics and Politics and School Mathematics Each case is followed by a space for readers own reactions and reflections school stakeholders reactions and a summary with additional questions for further discussion Part II presents three public arguments representing different views about the issues that arise in mathematics teaching conservative liberal and radical multiculturalist Part III offers the authors reflections on the centrality of culture in teaching mathematics resources and exercises for further reflection and a bibliography for further reading Mathematics and

Teaching is pertinent for all prospective and practicing teachers at any stage in their teaching careers It is appropriate for any undergraduate and graduate course addressing mathematics teaching issues

Quality and Qualities: Tensions in Education Reforms Clementina Acedo,Don Adams,Simona Popa,2012-09-07 Quality and Qualities Tensions in Education Reforms is a provocative call for understanding and further exploring the elusive concept of quality in education Although education quality has acquired high priority in the past few decades the multiplicity of conceptualizations of quality also reflects the concerns and foci of multiple stakeholders Coming to an understanding of quality education involves careful analysis of the context from which any particular reform or program emerges and of the continuing struggle to define and achieve it Two main questions persist who benefits from particular policies focused on quality And what are the potential tradeoffs between a focus on quality equitable distribution of education and inclusion of various traditional expectations This book explores notions of quality as understood within various systems of national formal and nonformal education Also it considers the tensions that arise with the introduction of new standardized notions of quality in relation to international measures and educational reforms in developing countries In all cases specific national issues and concerns compete with global agendas Challenges to quality that are given particular attention in the book chapters include changing definitions of quality high expectations for education and issues with implementation and the introduction of English as a means to achieve quality in a globalizing world Special attention is also given to possible actions that support a more equitable education without ignoring the requisite of quality The final chapter suggests three models choices for seeking higher quality and guiding the educational future of nations
