WHAT TO EXPECT

The Body Feels It The various conditions/and symptoms and sensations you experience usually show people that something is not "normal," as the body is the only one that has not been taught and conditioned either to ignore. This is instinctive. The body must get rid of the excess waste and toxins caused by these pollutants in order to maintain and keep its environment in a state of equilibrium.

Keep your body during the detoxification process by eating plenty of cleansing beneficial foods, including colorful cruciferous veggies and coconut water (left).
