The Elements of Style Stephen Calloway, 2005 An updated and extended edition of The Elements of Style the most comprehensive visual survey period by period feature by feature of the styles that have had the greatest impact on the interiors of British and American domestic architecture

In what Style Should We Build? Heinrich Hübsch, 1992 In 1828 a young architect Heinrich Hübsch published a polemical study in which he suggested that the rapid technological progress of the early nineteenth century combined with changed living habits had rendered the Greek Neoclassical style unsuitable for present needs or future development The intriguing title of his book In What Style Should We Build even more than its provocative argument touched off a dispute among architects that filled the pages of the newly founded journals of the 1830s and 1840s The theme of this often animated discussion hastened by the burst of historical knowledge was the choice of a style that is the determination of the premises from which a future and culturally appropriate style might be engendered By mid century however the confident expectation of bringing the search to a conclusion began to wane Now historicism plurality of styles and eclecticism were becoming dominant factors in architecture Evidently the debate had failed in its prime objective and yet it had set in motion intellectual forces that from our present perspective appear to have instituted a new nineteenth century style The Texts Documents series offers to the student of art architecture and aesthetics neglected forgotten or unavailable writings in English translation Edited according to modern standards of scholarship and framed by critical introductions and commentaries these volumes gradually mine the past centuries for studies that retain their significance in our understanding of art and of the issues surrounding its production reception and interpretation Eminent scholars assist in the selection and publication of volumes in the Texts Documents series Each volume acquaints readers with the broader cultural conditions at the genesis of the text and equips them with the needed apparatus for its study Over time the series will greatly expand our horizon and deepen our understanding of critical thinking on art

The Fractal Dimension of Architecture Michael J. Ostwald, Josephine Vaughan, 2016-09-01 Fractal analysis is a method for measuring analysing and comparing the formal or geometric properties of complex objects In this book it is used to investigate eighty five buildings that have been designed by some of the twentieth century s most respected and celebrated architects Including designs by Le Corbusier Eileen Gray Frank Lloyd Wright Robert Venturi Frank Gehry Peter Eisenman Richard Meier and Kazuyo Sejima amongst others this book uses mathematics to analyse arguments and theories about some of the world s most famous designs Starting with 625 reconstructed architectural plans and elevations and including more than 200 specially prepared views of famous buildings this book presents the results of the largest mathematical study ever undertaken into architectural design and the largest single application of fractal analysis presented in any field The data derived from this study is used to test three overarching hypotheses about social stylistic and personal trends in design along with five celebrated arguments about twentieth century architecture Through this process the book offers a unique mathematical insight into the history and theory of design

Architecture, Culture, and Spirituality Thomas Barrie, Julio Bermudez, Phillip James Tabb, 2016-03-09 Architecture has long been understood as a cultural discipline able to articulate the human condition and lift the human spirit yet the spirituality of architecture is rarely directly addressed in academic scholarship The seventeen chapters provide a diverse range of perspectives grouped according to topical themes Being in the World Sacred Secular and the Contemporary Condition Symbolic Engagements Sacred Landscapes and Spirituality and the Designed Environment Even though the authors approach the subject from a range of disciplines and theoretical positions all share interests in the need to rediscover redefine or reclaim the sacred in everyday experience scholarly analysis and design

Vernacular Heritage and Earthen Architecture Mariana Correia, Gilberto Carlos, Sandra Rocha, 2013-10-04 In a continuously changing world there has been a growing interest in the protection of vernacular heritage and earthen architecture The need to protect and enhance this fragile heritage via intelligent responses to threats from nature and the environment has become evident Historically vernacular heritage research focussed on philosophical aspe

Software Architecture: System Design, Development and Maintenance Jan Bosch, Morven Gentleman, Christine Hofmeister, Juha Kuusela, 2013-06-29 For more and more systems software has moved from a peripheral to a central role replacing mechanical parts and hardware and giving the product a competitive edge Consequences of this trend are an increase in the size of software systems the variability in software artifacts and the importance of software in achieving the system level properties Software architecture provides the necessary abstractions for managing the resulting complexity We here introduce the Third Working IEEE/IFIP Conference on Software Architecture WICSA3 That it is already the third such conference is in itself a clear indication that software architecture continues to be an important topic in industrial software development and in software engineering research However becoming an established field does not mean that software architecture provides less opportunity for innovation and new directions On the contrary one can identify a number of interesting trends within software architecture research The first trend is that the role of the software architecture in all phases of software development is more explicitly recognized Whereas initially software architecture was primarily associated with the architecture design phase we now see that the software architecture is treated explicitly during development product derivation in software product lines at run time and during system evolution Software architecture as an artifact has been decoupled from a particular lifecycle phase
