Belgisch Woordenboek Online:

Did you say "migrant"? Valérie Mistiaen, 2025-08-21 The 2011 war in Syria triggered a wave of people seeking asylum in Europe bringing immigration into the political and media spotlight and sparking numerous debates on displaced people. These debates have been marked by a heightened focus on the terminology used to describe people on the move. Terms such as refugee, migrant, immigrant, asylum seeker, illegal immigrant, and displaced person have circulated in the media, often blurring our understanding of events or conveying contradictory representations of those involved. Moreover, the words used to define people on the move are not fixed in time; their meaning and reference emerge from events and social representations shaping both the public issue of migration and the image of the social actors concerned. Using a discursive approach that combines discourse analysis and corpus linguistics, this book examines how the Belgian media referred to displaced people. It is innovative in three key ways. Firstly, it analyses media coverage in both the French and Dutch speaking communities of Belgium, allowing for comparisons of how migration was represented in two culturally, linguistically, and politically distinct regions of the same country. Secondly, it studies both written and audiovisual media, drawing on an extensive dataset of 13,391 press articles and 3,490 television news items. Finally, it goes beyond the most commonly used terms related to migration, exploring a significantly broader range of designations than have previously been studied. This book contributes to the understanding of how language shapes social debates and is an essential resource for anyone interested in the multilingual analysis of media texts.

Mass Theatre in Interwar Europe Thomas Crombez, Luk Van den Dries, 2014-06-24 Ideological heterogeneity in mass plays in Flanders and the Netherlands. In many European countries, mass theatre was a widespread expression of community art which became increasingly popular shortly before the First World War. From Max Reinhardt's lavish open air spectacles to socialist workers' Laienspiel, lay theatre visionaries focused on ever larger groups for entertainment as well as political agitation. Despite wide research on the Soviet and German cases, examples from the Low Countries have hardly been examined. However, mass plays in Flanders and the Netherlands had a distinctive character, displaying an ideological heterogeneity not seen elsewhere. Mass Theatre in Interwar Europe studies this peculiar phenomenon of the Low Countries in its European context and sheds light on the broader framework of mass movements in the interwar period.

Vormen van regionaal bewustzijn en nationale identiteit in Belgisch- en Nederlands-Limburg, 1866-1938 Karen Arijs, 2017 In 1839 gingen Nederland en België uit elkaar. Sindsdien waren er twee provincies met de naam Limburg en de rivier de Maas werd een staatsgrens. Karen Arijs onderzoekt of zich na het ontstaan van de beide Limburgen een grensoverschrijdend regionaal bewustzijn heeft ontwikkeld. Vonden de bewoners aan weerskanten van de Maas dat zij meer met elkaar waren verbonden dan met andere Belgen, Vlamingen respectievelijk Nederlanders, rooms-katholieken? Voelden zij zich meer verbonden met hun streek Groot Limburg dan met hun land? De vraag wordt uitgewerkt aan de hand van koninklijke bezoeken, herdenkingen, historische optochten en andere openbare feestelijkheden in Hasselt Tongeren en Maastricht De belangrijkste conclusie van het onderzoek is dat er van interregionaal overschrijdend bewustzijn geen sprake was Het grensoverschrijdend regionalisme dat gelooft in een tijdloze toestand van samen horen is een hedendaags idee Back cover Fast-Forwarding with Audiovisual Translation Jorge Díaz Cintas, Kristijan Nikolić, 2017-12-14 This edited collection offers a rounded vision of some of the ways in which audiovisual translation AVT can be approached from an academic professional and educational point of view The studies provide a stimulating and thought provoking account of some of the most representative themes that are currently being researched in the field of AVT while also highlighting new directions of potential research from a cognitive perspective A conscious effort has been made to cover not only cultural and linguistic approaches to traditional domains of AVT such as dubbing and subtitling but also to look into lesser known areas of research that are attracting substantial interest from various stakeholders and gradually becoming part of the remit of AVT including subtitling for the deaf and audio description for the blind In this respect the chapters of this book tackle the field of AVT from a plural comprehensive and up to date perspective speak of a rich and complex academic subject in the making broaden our existing knowledge on AVT reflect the many crossroads and junctions it currently faces and outline some of the issues that will become topical in the near future in this fascinating flourishing discipline Digital History and Hermeneutics Andreas Fickers, Juliane Tatarinov, 2022-06-21 As a result of rapid
