Modern astrophysics is a mature science that has evolved from its early phase of discovery and classification to a physics oriented discipline focused on finding answers to fundamental problems ranging from cosmology to the origin and diversity of life sustainable systems in the Universe. For this very reason progress of modern astrophysics requires access to the electromagnetic spectrum in the broadest energy range. The Ultraviolet is a fundamental energy domain since it is one of the most powerful tools to study plasmas at temperatures in the 3 000 300 000 K range as well as electronic transitions of the most abundant molecules in the Universe.
