Letters of William Gaddis William Gaddis, 2013-03-14 Now recognized as one of the giants of postwar American fiction William Gaddis 1922-98 shunned the spotlight during his life which makes this collection of his letters a revelation Beginning in 1930 when Gaddis was at boarding school and ending in September 1998 a few months before his death these letters function as a kind of autobiography and are all the more valuable because Gaddis was not an autobiographical writer Here we see him forging his first novel The Recognitions 1955 while living in Mexico fighting in a revolution in Costa Rica and working in Spain France and North Africa Over the next twenty years he struggles to find time to write the National Book Award winning J R 1975 amid the complications of work and family deals with divorce and disillusionment before reviving his career with Carpenter's Gothic 1985 then teaches himself enough about the law to indite A Frolic of His Own 1994 which earned him another NBA Returning to a topic he first wrote about in the 1940s he finishes his last novel Agape Agape as he lay dying Letters and Homilies for Jewish Christians Ben Witherington III, Ben Witherington, 2007-11-15 Letters and Homilies for Jewish Christians is the second of three volumes extending Ben Witherington's innovative socio rhetorical analysis of New Testament books to the latter Pauline and non Pauline corpora A third volume will extend the focus on Letters and Homilies for Hellenized Christians begun in the first volume By dividing the volumes according to the socioreligious contexts for which they were written Witherington sheds fresh light on the documents their provenance character and importance Throughout Witherington shows his thorough knowledge of recent literature on these texts and focuses his attention on the unique insights brought about through socio rhetorical analysis that either reinforces or corrects those gleaned from other approaches Bridging the Horizons sections point to the relevance of the text for believers today making this volume of special value to pastors and general readers as well as to students and scholars Features and Benefits Provides commentary from a prominent New Testament scholar Offers a fresh look at Hebrews James and Jude in light of recent study and socio rhetorical concerns Includes Closer Look sections that explore contemporary issues in more detail

The Apologists and Paul Todd D. Still, David E. Wilhite, 2024-06-13 This volume examines the use of Paul's writing within the work of ante Nicene apologetic writers It takes apologetics as a broad genre in which many early Christian writers participated offering rhetorical defenses for emerging aspects of doctrine rooted in understanding of the scriptures and often specifically the writings of Paul The volume interacts with the writings of many significant apologetic writers including Melito of Sardis Clement of Alexandria Tatian Tertullian Hippolytus and Cyprian The chapters examine how these early Christian writers used the letters of Paul to develop their own philosophical ideas and defenses of aspects of the emerging Christian faith The internationally renowned contributors have all been specially commissioned for this volume and an afterword by Todd D Still considers the question of whether or not Paul was an apologist himself The Blackwell Companion to The New Testament David E. Aune, 2010-01-22 The Blackwell Companion to the New Testament is a detailed introduction to the New Testament written by more than 40 scholars from a variety of Christian denominations Treats the 27 books and letters of the New Testament systematically beginning with a review of current issues and concluding with an annotated bibliography Considers the historical social and cultural contexts in which the New Testament was produced exploring relevant linguistic and textual issues An international contributor list of over 40 scholars represent wide field expertise and a variety of Christian denominations Distinctive features include a unified treatment of Luke through Acts articles on the canonical Gospels and a discussion of the apocryphal New Testament

The Manichaean Church in Kellis Håkon Fiane Teigen, 2021-06-08 The Manichaean Church in Kellis presents an in depth study of social organisation within the religious movement known as Manichaeism in Roman Egypt In particular it employs papyri from Kellis Ismant el Kharab a village in the Dakhleh Oasis to explore the socio religious world of lay Manichaeans in the fourth century CE Manichaeism has often been perceived as an elitist esoteric religion Challenging this view Teigen draws on social network theory and cultural sociology and engages with the study of lived ancient religion in order to apprehend how lay people in Kellis appropriated Manichaean identity and practice in their everyday lives This perspective he argues not only provides a better understanding of Manichaeism it also has wider implications for how we understand late antique religion as a social phenomenon

Paul and Perseverance Judith M. Gundry Volf, 1990-01-01 Does Paul assume that Christians will remain in salvation If so on what basis What if anything can disrupt this continuity and to what extent can it do so Using detailed exegetical analysis of the relevant texts Judith Volf addresses what Paul believed about continuity in salvation and the importance of this theme for subsequent Christians

The First Letter to the Corinthians Roy E Ciampa, Brian S Rosner, 2020-05-21 This careful sometimes innovative mid level commentary touches on an astonishingly wide swath of important sensitive issues theological and pastoral that have urgent resonances in twenty first century life This thorough commentary presents a coherent reading of 1 Corinthians taking full account of its Old Testament and Jewish roots and demonstrating Paul's primary concern for the unity and purity of the church and the glory of God Those who preach and teach 1 Corinthians will be grateful to Ciampa and Rosner for years to come and scholars will be challenged to see this letter with fresh eyes

Letters to a Mis-instructed Church Tangelia L. Clayton, 2023-01-01 people have been missing Jesus in churches because they are too busy looking at the mess that is going on He has been sitting watching the vandalism and trash being tossed around with reckless abandonment while it tore at His heart The ones leaders He entrusted to keep the house had allowed it to be in the state that it currently sits

Being 'in Christ' in the Letters of Paul Teresa Morgan, 2020-11-05 In this study Teresa Morgan offers a radically new interpretation of in Christ and related expressions in the undisputed letters of Paul Starting from a reassessment of Deissmann's Die neutestamentliche Formel in Christo Jesu she argues that Deissmann's philology is flawed the Schweitzerian concept of participation in Christ which is indebted to it is problematic and many contemporary accounts of participation are better understood in other terms Through close readings of each letter Teresa Morgan shows how Paul uses en Christo language instrumentally to speak of what God has done through Christ by Christ's death and encheiristically to speak of the life the faithful now live in Christ's hands in Christ's power under his authority under his protection and in his care This creative use of en Christo language forms part of and connects Paul's soteriology eschatology and Christology shaping his narrative of God's intervention in the world the relationship between God Christ and the faithful the lordship and work of Christ between the resurrection and the parousia and God's ultimate triumph This narrative is closely connected with Paul's ecclesiology and ethics where life in Christ's hands is envisaged as the this worldly dimension of the new creation an aspect of eternal life already active in the present time In Christ's hands the faithful not least Paul himself live a new life in communities with a distinctive structure and dynamic In Christ's hands they hope to remain in right standing with God and serve God until Christ's return

Archaeology and the Letters of Paul Laura Salah Nasrallah, 2018-12-06 Archaeology and the Letters of Paul illuminates the social political economic and religious lives of those to whom the apostle Paul wrote Roman Ephesos provides evidence of slave traders and the regulation of slaves it is a likely setting for household of Philemon to whom a letter about the slave Onesimus is addressed In Galatia an inscription seeks to restrain the demands of travelling Roman officials illuminating how the apostolic travels of Paul Cephas and others disrupted communities At Philippi a list of donations from the cult of Silvanus demonstrates the benefactions of a community that like those in Christ sought to share abundance in the midst of economic limitations In Corinth a landscape of grief extends from monuments to the bones of the dead and provides a context in which to understand Corinthian practices of baptism on behalf of the dead and the provocative idea that one could live as if not mourning or rejoicing Rome and the Letter to the Romans are the grounds for an investigation of ideas of time and race not only in the first century when we find an Egyptian obelisk inserted as a timepiece into the mausoleum complex of Augustus but also of a new Rome under Mussolini that claimed the continuity of Roman racial identity from antiquity to his time and sought to excise Jews Thessalonik and the early Christian literature associated with the city demonstrates what is done out of love for Paul invention of letters legends and cult in his name The book articulates a method for bringing together biblical texts with archaeological remains This method reconstructs the lives of the many adelphoi brothers and sisters whom Paul and his co-writers address Its project is informed by feminist historiography and gains inspiration from thinkers such as Claudia Rankine Judith Butler Giorgio Agamben Wendy Brown and Katie Lofton
