how to teach history in the age of easily accessible but not always reliable information Let's start with two truths about our era that are so inescapable as to have become clichés We are surrounded by more readily available information than ever before And a huge percent of it is inaccurate Some of the bad info is well meaning but ignorant Some of it is deliberately deceptive All of it is pernicious With the Internet at our fingertips what's a teacher of history to do In Why Learn History When It's Already on Your Phone professor Sam Wineburg has the answers beginning with this We can't stick to the same old read the chapter answer the question snoozefest If we want to educate citizens who can separate fact from fake we have to equip them with new tools Historical thinking Wineburg shows has nothing to do with the ability to memorize facts Instead it's an orientation to the world that cultivates reasoned skepticism and counters our tendency to confirm our biases Wineburg lays out a mine filled landscape but one that with care attention and awareness we can learn to navigate The future of the past may rest on our screens But its fate rests in our hands Praise for Why Learn History When It's Already on Your Phone If every K 12 teacher of history and social studies read just three chapters of this book Crazy for History Changing History One Classroom at a Time and Why Google Can't Save Us the ensuing transformation of our populace would save our democracy James W Lowen author of Lies My Teacher Told Me and Teaching What Really Happened A sobering and urgent report from the leading expert on how American history is taught in the nation's schools A bracing edifying and vital book Jill Lepore New Yorker staff writer and author of These Truths Wineburg is a true innovator who has thought more deeply about the relevance of history to the Internet and vice versa than any other scholar I know Anyone interested in the uses and abuses of history today has a duty to read this book Niall Ferguson senior fellow Hoover Institution and author of The Ascent of Money and Civilization Reading Like a Historian Avishag Reisman, 2011 Enthusiasm about the instructional potential of primary sources dates to the late 19th century and has been echoed recently in the work of literacy experts historians and educational psychologists Yet no extended intervention study has been undertaken to test the effectiveness of primary source instruction in real history classrooms This study with 236 eleventh grade students in five San Francisco high schools represented the first large scale extended curriculum intervention in disciplinary reading in an urban district The Reading Like a Historian RLH curriculum constituted a radical departure from traditional textbook driven instruction by using a new activity structure the Document Based Lesson in which students used background knowledge and disciplinary reading strategies to interrogate and then reconcile historical accounts from multiple texts A quasi experiment control design measured the effects of a six month intervention on four dimensions 1 students historical thinking 2 their ability to transfer historical thinking strategies to contemporary issues 3 their mastery of factual knowledge and 4 their growth in general reading comprehension MANCOVA analysis yielded significant main effects for the treatment condition on all four outcome measures Qualitative analyses of videotaped classroom lessons were conducted to determine the frequency and nature of whole class text based discussion Only nine whole class text based discussions were identified in over 100 videotaped classroom lessons despite the presence of instructional materials explicitly designed to support student discussion of debatable historical questions Analysis of teacher and student participation suggests a relationship between active teacher facilitation that reviews background knowledge and poses direct questions about texts and higher levels of student argumentation This dissertation is structured as three free standing papers each of which addresses one aspect of the larger study In the first paper I discuss the design of the quasi experimental study and report quantitative findings In the second paper I locate teacher facilitation of whole class historical discussion in the literature on classroom discourse and I propose a developmental framework for analyzing student historical argumentation in classroom discussion In the third and final paper I discuss the theoretical underpinnings of the intervention curriculum and offer two examples to illustrate the structure of the Document Based Lesson

Lamphier, Rosanne Welch, 2017-01-23 This four volume set documents the complexity and richness of women s contributions to American history and culture empowering all students by demonstrating a more populist approach to the past Based on the content of most textbooks it would be easy to reach the erroneous conclusion that women have not contributed much to America s history and development Nothing could be further from the truth Offering comprehensive coverage of women of a diverse range of cultures classes ethnicities religions and sexual identifications this four volume set identifies the many ways in which women have helped to shape and strengthen the United States This encyclopedia is organized into four chronological volumes with each volume further divided into three sections Each section features an overview essay and thematic essay as well as detailed entries on topics ranging from Lady Gaga to Ladybird Johnson Lucy Stone and Lucille Ball and from the International Ladies of Rhythm to the International Ladies Garment Workers Union The set also includes a vast variety of primary documents such as personal letters public papers newspaper articles recipes and more These primary documents enhance users learning opportunities and enable readers to better connect with the subject matter Resources in Education ,1998 The Book of the American's Creed ,1921 Rudolph Ganz, Patriotism, and Standardization of The Star-Spangled Banner, 1907-1958 Iain Quinn,2023-11-07 This book examines the succession of events toward the potential standardization of the music for The Star Spangled Banner from an initial letter to President Roosevelt in 1907 to the 1958 congressional hearings on the National Anthem and the later work of the Swiss Born American pianist Rudolph Ganz These events took place across five decades when a culture of public patriotism was especially pronounced for immigrant musicians This book contextualizes the complementary experiences of a leading immigrant musician Ganz who successfully navigated the world of public patriotism while pursuing the realization of a standardized version The materials are discussed through the lens of the performance practice The legacy of standardization has not previously been examined The response and actions of an immigrant Ganz in a culture of necessary patriotism for foreign born artists shed important new light on this topic It demonstrates the challenges fears and cultural expectations regarding the standardization of an important patriotic work
