Being Catholic In A Culture Of Choice:

Being Catholic in a Culture of Choice Thomas P. Rausch, 2006 Thomas Rausch's book Being Catholic in a Culture of Choice examines a number of recent studies of young adult Catholics as well as different ways that being Catholic is developed and supported from the Catholic imagination to a reexamination of Christian origins in the light of the charges made in The Da Vinci Code to the domestic church and Catholic colleges and universities

The Rite of Christian Initiation Peter McGrail, 2016-02-17 In the wake of recent papal legislation the various liturgies of the Roman Rite may today be celebrated in either their post Tridentine or post Vatican II forms Whilst much discussion of this new situation focuses on purely liturgical issues this book breaks new ground by arguing that the coexistence of the two forms raises questions of a profoundly ecclesiological character Peter McGrail explores the relationship between ritual form ecclesial self understanding and constructs of the world that are at play as adults become members of the Church Analysing the rites by which adults were taken into the Church for three and a half centuries this book goes on to explore attempts to find a new ritual expression for the journey to Christian Initiation set against the divergent and even conflicting ecclesiologies which were at play before and during the Council

The Self in European and North American Culture J.H. Oosterwegel, R.A. Wicklund, 2012-12-06 How diverse or potentially overlapping are the numerous self models self theories and directions of self research It has become clear that the processes associated with the self are complex and diverse and that many of the approaches associated with the self have been pursued in isolation Moreover the fact of there being different traditions within developmental and social psychology as well as different traditions in Europe and North America has also led to a certain cacophony when we examine the self field as a whole The chapters here confront these differences trying to come to terms with phenomena that are overarching that extend through the dimensions of developmental psychology social psychology motivation psychology and parts of clinical psychology The book as whole gives a clear presentation of the issues questions and phenomena that surface in research fields known as self psychology

Catholics, Conflicts and Choices Angela Coco, 2014-09-12 Many Catholics today are disenchanted with the Church's continuing distrust of women and laity But despite this widespread dissatisfaction traditional power relations have hardly changed over the last century Catholics Conflicts and Choices presents detailed interviews with lay people priests Sisters and Christian Brothers each discussing their personal struggles with church teachings and practices The conversations are selected to illustrate different experiences of power relations particularly different aspects of gender dynamics within the organisational structures of the Church The interviews are examined within a framework of feminist sociological and psychological theory Catholics Conflicts and Choices reveals how despite a long history of challenging official notions of authority and obedience and assumptions about intimate relationships there is little potential for change if the established power relations of the Church are not confronted

Universalism and Liberation Jacopo Cellini, 2017-05-11 The changing attitude of Catholic culture towards modernity After decades of a problematic if not plainly hostile approach to modernity by Catholic culture the 1960s marked the beginning of a new era As the Church employed a more positive approach to the world voices in the Catholic milieu embraced a radical perspective channeling the need for social justice for the poor and the oppressed The alternative and complementary world views of universalism and liberation would drive the engagement of Catholics for generations to come shaping the idea of international community in Catholic culture Because of its traditional connection with the papacy and because of its prominent role in the map of European progressive Catholicism Italy stands out as an ideal case study to follow these dynamics By locating the Italian scenario in a broader geographical frame Universalism and Liberation offers a new vantage point from which to investigate the social and political relevance of religion in an age of crisis Becoming a Church of Lifelong Learners John Roberto, 2006 The key in the Generations approach to faith formation is that it builds on the strengths of a parish's current catechetical program while creating a lifelong faith formation plan and intergenerational learning programs that gather all the generations to learn together and nurture faith at home throughout the life cycle The CD ROM includes PowerPoint presentations for each chapter along with articles by religious education theorists who have been instrumental in developing a new paradigm of lifelong faith formation The book is ideal for parish pastoral and catechetical leaders as well as university courses in religious education and pastoral ministry American Catholic Studies, 2007

Confirmation Timothy R. Gabrielli, 2013 What are we doing when we confirm teenagers Why is the religious education of teenagers so perplexing Why is confirmation often a moment of graduation out of parish life Confirmation How a Sacrament of God's Grace Became All about Us tells the story of how confirmation more than any other sacrament has interacted with secular culture to give rise to these kinds of pastoral challenges At the same time confirmation has over the course of the twentieth century become a sacramental stamp of approval for various Catholic renewal movements The cultural shifts of the last century have led to various theological themes for confirmation creating a crisis of meaning today Is confirmation a personal choice for faith or is it the deepening of an ongoing relationship with the Divine Timothy Gabrielli gives us a fresh approach for addressing these pressing questions

Marriage Vows and Racial Choices Jessica Vasquez-Tokos, 2017-02-14 Choosing whom to marry involves more than emotion as racial politics cultural mores and local demographics all shape romantic choices In Marriage Vows and Racial Choices sociologist Jessica Vasquez Tokos explores the decisions of Latinos who marry either within or outside of their racial and ethnic groups Drawing from in depth interviews with nearly 50 couples she examines their marital choices and how these unions influence their identities as Americans Vasquez Tokos finds that their experiences in childhood adolescence and young adulthood shape their perceptions of race which in turn influence their romantic expectations Most Latinos marry other Latinos but those who intermarry tend to marry whites She finds that some Latina women who had domineering fathers assumed that most Latino men shared this trait and gravitated toward white men who differed from their fathers Other Latina respondents who married white men fused ideas of race and class and perceived whites as higher status and considered themselves to be marrying up Latinos who married non Latino minorities African Americans Asian Americans and Native Americans often sought out non white partners because they shared similar experiences of racial marginalization Latinos who married Latinos of a different national origin expressed a desire for shared cultural commonalities with their partners but like those who married whites often associated their own national origin groups with oppressive gender roles Vasquez Tokos also investigates how racial and cultural identities are maintained or altered for the respondents children Within Latino white marriages biculturalism in contrast with Latinos adopting a white American identity is likely to emerge For instance white women who married Latino men often embraced aspects of Latino culture and passed it along to their children Yet for these children upholding Latino cultural ties depended on their proximity to other Latinos particularly extended family members Both location and family relationships shape how parents and children from interracial families understand themselves culturally As interracial marriages become more common Marriage Vows and Racial Choices shows how race gender and class influence our marital choices and personal lives
