

THE AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN

The foregoing is a faithful account of the life of Abraham Lincoln, as far as it is known to the writer of this book, and as far as it is known to the public. It is the result of a long and careful study of the life of this great man, and of the many who have written of him. It is the result of a long and careful study of the life of this great man, and of the many who have written of him.

After repeated efforts, many years, in the winter of 1858, he published a book, in which he gave a full and complete account of the life of this great man, and of the many who have written of him. It is the result of a long and careful study of the life of this great man, and of the many who have written of him.

He was born on the 12th of February, 1809, in Hardin County, Kentucky. He was the son of a poor farmer, and he grew up in a poor family. He was a man of great energy and great ability, and he was a man of great energy and great ability.

He was a man of great energy and great ability, and he was a man of great energy and great ability. He was a man of great energy and great ability, and he was a man of great energy and great ability.

He was a man of great energy and great ability, and he was a man of great energy and great ability. He was a man of great energy and great ability, and he was a man of great energy and great ability.
