The Future of Service-Learning Jean R. Strait, Marybeth Lima, 2023-07-03 As a new generation of practitioners engages with service learning at a time when higher education faces questions about learning outcomes and costs and in the context of such issues as globalization and the environment this book poses important questions about practice institutional sustainability and future directions Among these are What counts as service learning What value does it bring to institutions Is it appropriate for all students How is globalization impacting service learning Divided into three thematic parts this book successively covers institutional and administrative issues service learning as a springboard for research and presents new practices that address emerging challenges and changing student populations The contributors review how different institutional types have structured their service learning activities address the issue of centralization or decentralization propose better ways to form community partnerships consider promotion and tenure implications postulate framing service learning and community engagement as scholarship and examine service learning as a springboard for research Further chapters offer a new blueprint for funding to achieve sustainability examples of international service learning from a European perspective a case study and framework for using on line formats to extend the reach of a program raise the urgent issue of the experiences and contributions of underrepresented students and present the rationale and processes for developing effective student led evaluation of programs

Building a Culture of Hope Robert D. Barr, Emily L. Gibson, 2013-05-20 Research demonstrates that children of poverty need more than just academic instruction to succeed Discover a blueprint for turning low performing schools into Cultures of Hope The authors draw from their own experiences working with high poverty high achieving schools to illustrate how to support students with an approach that considers social as well as emotional factors in education

Counting What Counts Yong Zhao, 2015-10-23 Overemphasizing test scores as measures of achievement is potentially harmful to education The contributors identify key traits such as mindset motivation social skills creativity and entrepreneurial spirit that students teachers and schools need to acknowledge and cultivate Educators are asked to shift the evaluation paradigm to focus on a multiplicity of skills necessary for success in the 21st century

Trusting Teachers with School Success Kim Farris-Berg, Edward J. Dirks, Amy Junge, 2013 Lately our nation's strategy for improving our schools is mostly limited to getting tough with teachers Blaming teachers for poor outcomes we spend almost all of our energy trying to control teachers behavior and school operations But what if all of this is exactly the opposite of what is needed What if teachers are the answer and not the problem What if trusting teachers and not controlling them is the key to school success Examining the experiences of teachers who are already trusted to call the shots this book answers What would teachers do if they had the autonomy not just to make classroom decisions but to collectively with their colleagues make the decisions influencing whole school success Decisions such as school curriculum how to allocate the school budget and whom to hire Teachers with decision making authority create the schools that many of us profess to want They individualize learning Their students are active not passive learners who gain academic and life skills The teachers create school cultures that are the same as those in high performing organizations They accept accountability and innovate and make efficient use of resources These promising results suggest it's time to trust teachers

Curriculum Construction Laurie Brady, Kerry Kennedy, 2013-10-24 Curriculum Construction 5e introduces and analyses all aspects of curriculum development interpretation and implementation The text develops students understanding of both the theoretical and practical components of curriculum construction The theoretical dimension of the text includes coverage of the broad social and political influences on a curriculum coverage of global contexts national curriculum initiatives and a discussion of values in education The practical section of the text provides teachers as well as members of the school community with the knowledge and skills to engage fully in the task of curriculum construction
