Archaeology Of Atlantic Africa And The African Diaspora Blacks In The Diaspora:

Archaeology of Atlantic Africa and the African Diaspora Akinwumi Ogundiran, Toyin Falola, 2007-11-06 Through interdisciplinary approaches to material culture the dynamics of a comparative transatlantic archaeology is developed

The African Diaspora and the Disciplines Tejumola Olaniyan, James Hoke Sweet, 2010 Focusing on the problems and conflicts of doing African diaspora research from various disciplinary perspectives these essays situate describe and reflect on the current practice of diaspora scholarship Tejumola Olaniyan James H Sweet and the international group of contributors assembled here seek to enlarge understanding of how the diaspora is conceived and explore possibilities for the future of its study With the aim of initiating interdisciplinary dialogue on the practice of African diaspora studies they emphasize learning from new perspectives that take advantage of intersections between disciplines Ultimately they advocate a fuller sense of what it means to study the African diaspora in a truly global way Archaeologies of African American Life in the Upper

Mid-Atlantic Michael J. Gall, Richard F. Veit, 2017-10-17 New scholarship provides insights into the archaeology and cultural history of African American life from a collection of sites in the Mid Atlantic Current Perspectives on the Archaeology of African Slavery in Latin America Pedro Paulo A. Funari, Charles E. Orser Jr., 2014-11-10 This edited volume aims at exploring a most relevant but somewhat neglected subject in archaeological studies especially within Latin America maroons and runaway settlements Scholarship on runaways is well established and prolific in ethnology anthropology and history but it is still in its infancy in archaeology A small body of archaeological literature on maroons exists for other regions but no single volume discusses the subject in depth including diverse eras and geographical areas within Latin American contexts Thus a central aim of the volume is to gather together some of the most active Latin American maroon archaeologists in a single volume This volume will thus become an important reference book on the subject and will also foster further archaeology research on maroon settlements The introduction and comments by senior scholars provide a wide ranging and comprehensive analysis of runaway archaeology that will help to indicate the global importance of this research African American Life in the Georgia Lowcountry Philip Morgan, 2011-11-01 The lush landscape and subtropical climate of the Georgia coast only enhance the air of mystery enveloping some of its inhabitants people who owe in some ways as much to Africa as to America As the ten previously unpublished essays in this volume examine various aspects of Georgia lowcountry life they often engage a central dilemma the region's physical and cultural remoteness helps to preserve the venerable ways of its black inhabitants but it can also marginalize the vital place of lowcountry blacks in the Atlantic World The essays which range in coverage from the founding of the Georgia colony in the early 1700s through the present era explore a range of topics all within the larger context of the Atlantic world Included are essays on the double edged freedom that the American Revolution made possible to black women the lowcountry as site of the largest gathering of African Muslims in early North America and the coexisting worlds of Christianity and conjuring in coastal Georgia and the links with variations to African practices A number of fascinating memorable characters emerge among them the defiant Mustapha Shaw who felt entitled to land on Ossabaw Island and resisted its seizure by whites only to become embroiled in struggles with other blacks Betty the slave woman who in the spirit of the American Revolution presented a list of grievances to her master and S Quash the Arabic speaking Muslim who arrived on one of the last legal transatlantic slavers and became a head man on a North Carolina plantation Published in association with the Georgia Humanities Council The African Diaspora Toyin Falola, 2013 The African diaspora is arguably the most important event in modern African history From the fifteenth century to the present millions of Africans have been dispersed many of them forcibly others driven by economic need or political persecution to other continents creating large communities with African origins living outside their native lands The majority of these communities are in North America This historic displacement has meant that Africans are irrevocably connected to economic and political developments in the West and globally Among the known legacies of the diaspora are slavery colonialism racism poverty and underdevelopment yet the ways in which these same factors worked to spur the scattering of Africans are not fully understood by those who were part of this migration or by scholars historians and policymakers In this definitive study of the diaspora in North America Toyin Falola offers a causal history of the western dispersion of Africans and its effects on the modern world Reengaging old and familiar debates and framing new ones that enrich the discourse surrounding Africa Falola isolates the thread running nearly six centuries that connects the history of slavery the transatlantic slave trade and current migrations A boon to scholars and policymakers and accessible to the general reader the book explores diverse narratives of migration and shows that the cultures that migrated from Africa to the Americas have the capacity to unite and create a new pan Africanist movement within the globalized world Toyin Falola is the Jacob and Frances Sanger Mossiker Chair in the Humanities and University Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin He is the 2011 recipient of the Distinguished Africanist Award from the African Studies Association and serves as the vice president of the International Scientific Committee of the UNESCO Slave Route Project His previous books published by the University of Rochester Press include The Power of African Cultures and Nationalism and African Intellectuals

The Human Tradition in the Black Atlantic, 1500-2000 Beatriz G. Mamigonian, Karen Racine, 2010 Like snapshots of everyday life in the past the compelling biographies in this book document the making of the Black Atlantic world since the sixteenth century from the point of view of those who were part of it Centering on the diaspora caused by the forced migration of Africans to Europe and across the Atlantic to the Americas the chapters explore the slave trade enslavement resistance adaptation cultural transformations and the quest for citizenship rights The variety of experiences constraints and choices depicted in the book and their changes across time and space defy the idea of a unified black experience At the same time it is clear that in the twentieth century black identity unified people of African descent who along with other minority groups struggled against colonialism and racism and presented alternatives to a version of modernity that excluded and alienated them Drawing on a rich array of little known documents the contributors reconstruct the lives and times of some well known characters along with ordinary people who rarely left written records and would otherwise have remained anonymous and unknown Contributions by Aaron P Althouse Alan Bloom Marcus J M de Carvalho Aisnara Perera D az Mar a de los ngeles Meri o Fuentes Fl vio dos Santos Gomes Hilary Jones Beatriz G Mamigonian Charles Beatty Medina Richard Price Sally Price Cassandra Pybus Karen Racine Ty M Reese Jo o Jos Reis Lorna Biddle Rinear Meredith L Roman Maya Talmon Chvaicer and Jerome Teelucksingh

Brazilian-African Diaspora in Ghana Kwame Essien,2016-10-01 Brazilian African Diaspora in Ghana is a fresh approach challenging both pre existing and established notions of the African Diaspora by engaging new regions conceptualizations and articulations that move the field forward This book examines the untold story of freed slaves from Brazil who thrived socially culturally and economically despite the challenges they encountered after they settled in Ghana Kwame Essien goes beyond the one dimensional approach that only focuses on British abolitionists funding of freed slaves resettlements in Africa The new interpretation of reverse migrations examines the paradox of freedom in discussing how emancipated Brazilian Africans came under threat from British colonial officials who introduced stringent land ordinances that deprived the freed Brazilian Africans from owning land particularly Brazilian land Essien considers anew contention between the returnees and other entities that were simultaneously vying for control over social political commercial and religious spaces in Accra and tackles the fluidity of memory and how it continues to shape Ghana s history The ongoing search for lost connections with the support of the Brazilian government inspiring multiple generations of Tabom offspring of the returnees to travel across the Atlantic and back especially in the last decade illustrates the unending nature of the transatlantic diaspora journey and its impacts

Materialities of Ritual in the Black Atlantic Akinwumi Ogundiran,Paula Saunders,2014-10-03 Focusing on everyday rituals the essays in this volume look at spheres of social action and the places throughout the Atlantic world where African descended communities have expressed their values ideas beliefs and spirituality in material terms The contributors trace the impact of encounters with the Atlantic world on African cultural formation how entanglement with commerce commodification and enslavement and with colonialism emancipation and self rule manifested itself in the shaping of ritual acts such as those associated with birth death healing and protection Taken as a whole the book offers new perspectives on what the materials of rituals can tell us about the intimate processes of cultural transformation and the dynamics of the human condition
