Ashraf Into Middle Class Muslims In Nineteenth Century Delhi:

Ashraf into Middle Classes Margrit Pernau, 2013-05-02 This book studies changing formations of Muslim identities in nineteenth century Delhi under later Mughals and in the early days of the British Raj. It explores the role of religion in their self-definition while historicizing Islam and socially contextualizing its various manifestations. Focusing on the members of the new emerging social class called the ashraf, the book tries to understand how individuals negotiated the changing social semantics of the nineteenth century. Indian Muslim Minorities and the 1857 Rebellion Ilyse R. Morgenstein

Fuerst, 2017-08-14 While jihad has been the subject of countless studies in the wake of recent terrorist attacks, scholarship on the topic has so far paid little attention to South Asian Islam and more specifically its place in South Asian history. Seeking to fill some gaps in the historiography, Ilyse R. Morgenstein Fuerst examines the effects of the 1857 Rebellion, long taught in Britain as the Indian Mutiny, on debates about the issue of jihad during the British Raj. Morgenstein Fuerst shows that the Rebellion had lasting pronounced effects on the understanding by their Indian subjects, whether Muslim, Hindu, or Sikh, of imperial rule by distant outsiders. For India's Muslims, their interpretation of the Rebellion as jihad shaped subsequent discourses, definitions, and codifications of Islam in the region. Morgenstein Fuerst concludes by demonstrating how these perceptions of jihad, contextualised within the framework of the 19th century Rebellion, continue to influence contemporary rhetoric about Islam and Muslims in the Indian subcontinent. Drawing on extensive primary source analysis, this unique take on Islamic identities in South Asia will be invaluable to scholars working on British colonial history, India and the Raj, as well as to those studying Islam in the region and beyond. The New Pakistani Middle Class Ammara Maqsood, 2017-11-13

Images of religious extremism and violence in Pakistan and the narratives that interpret them inform global events but also twist back to shape local class politics. Ammara Maqsood focuses on life in Lahore where she untangles these narratives to show how central they are for understanding competition between middle class groups. The Routledge Handbook of Transregional Studies Matthias Middell, 2018-11-08 The Routledge Handbook of Transregional Studies brings together the various fields within which transregional phenomena are scientifically observed and analysed. This handbook presents the theoretical and methodological potential of such studies for the advancement of the conceptualization of global and area-bound developments. Following three decades of intense debate about globalization and transnationalism, it has become clear that border-crossing connections and interactions between societies are highly important yet not all extend beyond the borders of nation-states or are of truly world-wide reach. The product of extensive international and interdisciplinary cooperation, this handbook is divided into ten sections that introduce the wide variety of topics within transregional studies, including Colonialism and Post Colonial Studies, Spatial Formats, International Organizations, Religions and Religious Movements, and Transregional Studies and Narratives of Globalization. Recognizing that transregional studies asks about the space-making and space-formatting character of connections as well as the empirical status of such connections under the global condition the volume reaches beyond the typical confines of area and regional studies to consider how areas are transcended and transformed more widely Combining case studies with both theoretical and methodological considerations The Routledge Handbook of Transregional Studies provides the first overview of the currently flourishing field of transregional studies and is the ideal volume for students and scholars of this diverse subject and its related fields The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license
