Romanticism and Methodism

Helen Boyles, 2016-10-14 Exploring the intense relationship between Romantic literature and Methodism Helen Boyles argues that writers from both movements display an ambivalent attitude towards the expression of deep emotional and spiritual experience Boyles takes up the disparaging characterization of William Wordsworth and other Romantic poets as Methodistical showing how this criticism was rooted in a suspicion of the enthusiasm with which the Methodist movement was negatively identified Historically enthusiasm has generated hostility and embarrassment a legacy that Boyles suggests provoked concerted efforts by Romantic poets such as Wordsworth and the Methodist leaders John and Charles Wesley to cleanse it of its derogatory associations While they distanced themselves from enthusiasm's dangerous and hysterical manifestations writers and religious leaders also identified with the precepts and inspiration of a language and religion of the heart Boyles's analysis encompasses a range of literary genres from the Methodist sermon and hymn to literary biography critical review lyric and epic poem Balancing analysis of creative content with a consideration of its critical reception she offers readers a detailed analysis of Wordsworth's relationship to popular evangelism within an analytical framework that incorporates Samuel Taylor Coleridge Robert Southey and William Hazlitt

Transfiguration and Hope D. Gregory Van Dussen, 2018-09-17 To read and visualize the transfiguration of Christ is to enter its mystery and encounter its hope Like the Gospel writers and the disciples who climbed the mountain with Jesus we struggle to tell the story and explain its meaning Yet this astounding event reveals God's ultimate purpose in sending his Son the complete restoration of humanity and all creation our transfiguration in Christ The light and glory of that moment reveal a destiny that is infinite and eternal made possible by the power of grace Transfiguration is the trajectory and goal of our spiritual journey Across time and space Christians have reflected on the mystery and hope epitomized in the transfiguration yet their voices have been heard primarily within their own cultural and ecclesiastical contexts This study gathers many of those voices from the panorama of Scripture and church history and finds in them the common theme of radical transformation in Christ The point of this theological conversation is spiritual transfiguration and hope for each of us as we reach toward the future Christ has shown us in himself
