Business Schools And Their Contribution To Society:

Business Schools and their Contribution to Society Mette Morsing, Alfons Sauquet Rovira, 2011-10-18 Business schools are arguably some of the most influential institutions in contemporary society. The research and education they provide set the standard for how future leaders manage local and global organizations, a responsibility requiring continual discussion, development, and challenge. This exciting book explores the role of business schools through 3 key dimensions: How business school legitimacy has been challenged by the recent economic crisis and corporate scandals; How schools contribute to shaping and transforming business conduct; and How institutions past and present develop their identities to face the challenges presented by the ongoing globalization process. Combining global perspectives from business school Deans, scholars, and stakeholders, this book presents a unique discussion of the current and future challenges facing business schools and their contributions to society.

Business Schools and Their Contribution to Society Alfons Sauquet Rovira, Mette Morsing, 2011 Leading global business school figures discuss the hottest debate in business education right now: what education business schools are providing and their contribution to modern society.

The Institutional Development of Business Schools Andrew Marshall Pettigrew, Eric Cornuel, Ulrich Hommel, 2014 In recent years Business Schools have been the fastest growing part of the higher education system. This book assesses this development and articulates a forward looking research agenda on the study of business schools as institutions.

Business Schools and Their Contribution to Society Mette Morsing, 2017 Business schools are arguably some of the most influential institutions in contemporary society, heavily influencing the way much socioeconomic activity is conducted. The education they provide is an important theme to be considered in its own right and perhaps even challenged. This exciting book explores the role of business schools in contemporary global society through 3 key dimensions: How business school legitimacy has been challenged by the recent economic crisis and corporate scandals; How business schools contribute to shaping and transforming business conduct; and How business schools past and present develop their identities to face the challenges presented by the ongoing globalization process. Combining perspectives from business school Deans from around the world as well as scholars and business leaders this book presents a unique discussion of the current and future challenges facing business schools today Developing Leadership Christopher Mabey, Wolfgang Mayrhofer, 2015-06-18 What kind of a leader do you want to become The role of business schools in developing future managers and leaders has long been scrutinised and critiqued This has been exacerbated by the recent financial crisis and many books have been written that condemn business schools for producing leaders who graduate without the ability to respond to the changing world around them innovate or act in a responsible way By way of remedy this provocative book takes the critique and debate further proposing a number of ethical and spiritual resources including Heiggarian philosophy classical Greek philosophy and the Maori notion of wairua It explores existing teaching practices and suggests ways that business schools can Encourage a greater understanding of different world views Introduce different perspectives such as the arts philosophy and spirituality Encourage the practice of responsible and ethical leadership Nurture innovation and creativity Developing Leadership is accompanied by filmed seminars exploring the central debates and interviews with the expert team of contributors A rare thing this book gives more than the label promises The title is about questions yet each chapter gives us answers to why important issues are not addressed in business schools and what to do about it This is a manifesto for reform and the next big question is what will you reader do about it Professor Jonathan Gosling Director Centre for Leadership Studies University of Exeter UK and Distinguished Visiting Professor of Leadership Development INSEAD France The Future of Business Schools Rico J. Baldegger, Ayman El Tarabishy, David B. Audretsch, Dafna Kariv, Katia Passerini, Wee-Liang Tan, 2022-11-18 Are business schools on the wrong track For many years business schools enjoyed rising enrollments positive media attention and growing prestige in the business world However due to the disruption of Covid 19 many previously ignored issues relating to MBA programs resurfaced As a result MBA programs now face lower enrollments and intense criticism for being deficient in preparing future business leaders and ignoring essential topics like ethics sustainability and diversity and inclusion The Future of Business Schools discusses these issues in the context of three critical areas complexity sustainability and destiny
