Africa Atlas Of Our Changing Environment:

Africa United Nations Environment Programme, 2008 This stunning 400 page Atlas is a unique and powerful publication which brings to light stories of environmental change at more than 100 locations spread across every country in Africa There are more than 300 satellite images 300 ground photographs and 150 maps along with informative graphs and charts that give a vivid visual portrayal of Africa and its changing environment that provide scientific evidence of the impact that natural and human activities have had on the continent's environment over the past several decades The observations and measurements of environmental change help gauge the extent of progress made by African countries towards reaching the United Nations Millennium Development Goals More importantly this book contributes to the knowledge and understanding that are essential for adaptation and remediation and should be of immense value to all those who want to know more about Africa and who care about the future of this continent One Planet, Many People Ashbindu Singh, United Nations

Environment Programme, 2005 Launched to mark World Environment Day 2005 and produced by the UNEP in collaboration with organisations such as the US Geological Survey and NASA this publication uses text illustrations satellite images and ground photographs to depict and analyse humanity's impact on our environment Issues discussed include population growth and urbanisation natural resources consumption land use intensification biodiversity and habitat loss environmental impacts and trends including global warming air and water pollution and the impacts on oceans and coastal zones forests and tundra changes that result from geo hazards such as earthquakes and tsunamis climate hazards such as floods and droughts and industrial hazards such as nuclear accidents and oil spills and suggestions for mitigating the effects of global environmental change

Africa Water Atlas United Nations Environment Programme, 2010 This Africa Water Atlas is a visual account of Africa's endowment and use of water resources revealed through 224 maps and 104 satellite images as well as some 500 graphics hundreds of compelling photos plus a brief profile of the water situation in every country These visual elements vividly illustrate a succinct narrative describing and analysing Africa's water issues and exemplifying them through the judicious use of case studies The Atlas tells the paradoxical story of a continent with adequate renewable water resources but unequal access because the water is either abundant or scarce depending on the season or the place it explores the opportunities to develop Africa's untapped water resources and human capacities to deliver safe drinking water and sanitation services to achieve the water related Millennium Development Goals As well as hydropower and irrigation services that help support livelihoods and boost economic development Reference Guide to Africa Alfred Kagan, Atoma Batoma, 2014-10-16 This third edition of the Reference Guide to Africa explains the most important resources for the study of the continent of Africa It contains a general sources section and a larger disciplinary oriented section All sources are annotated A new edition is sorely needed since the last edition was published nine years ago The previous editions have been successfully used in research libraries worldwide since 1999 and it has been used to teach several African studies research courses The book provides an orientation for researching almost any topic in the arts humanities and social sciences concerning the continent of Africa and all of its countries and ethnic groups The first part explains and lists portals databases bibliographies indexes guides encyclopedias country sources biography primary sources government publications and statistics The second part presents 16 subject oriented chapters mostly in the arts humanities and social sciences from agriculture and food security to women studies It covers sources that broadly cover the continent or in some cases only North Africa and the Middle East It generally excludes sources limited to one country or region of Africa except for North Africa because of the nature of the literature One third of the sources in this edition are new and nearly half of them are available in electronic format There are author title and subject indexes This unique work is intended for students teachers librarians and researchers It likely will be used most by reference librarians and teachers for students in high school through graduate studies It will also be used independently by undergraduate and graduate students It can be used to answer simple reference questions provide the resources for an undergraduate paper or for comprehensive work by advanced students and researchers

Africa's Lakes, 2006 Prepared as part of UNEP's contribution to the 11th World Lakes Conference held in Nairobi Kenya in November 2005 this publication examines the environmental changes taking place to Africa's lakes by analysing ground photographs current and historical satellite images and scientific evidence Changes highlighted include the rapid shrinking of Lake Songor in Ghana partly as a result of intensive salt production and the extraordinary changes in the Zambezi river system as a result of the building of the Cabora Basa dam site Other impacts some natural and some human made and which can only be truly appreciated from space include the extensive deforestation around Lake Nakuru in Kenya and the falling water levels of Lake Victoria which is now about a metre lower than it was in the early 1990s The analysis recognises the importance of Africa's lakes as a source of livelihoods for many local communities their contribution to the socio economic development of the continent and the need for the sustainable management of these resources in order to help overcome poverty and meet internationally agreed development goals by 2015 Africa Toward 2030 E.

Lundsgaarde, 2011-11-11 Combining studies of demography climate change technology and innovation political development new actors in international development and global governance frameworks this book highlights the major underlying determinants of change in the African context and key uncertainties about the continent's future development prospects

Urban Climate Change Adaptation in Developing Countries Mohsen M. Aboulnaga, Amr F. Elwan, Mohamed R. Elsharouny, 2019-03-14 This book describes the risks impacts measures actions and adaptation policies that have developed globally as a result of the severe impacts of global climate change In depth chapters focus on climate change assessment CCA in terms of vulnerabilities and reflection on the built environment and measures and actions for infrastructure and urban areas Adaptation actions specific to developing countries such as Egypt are presented and illustrated Global Climate change adaptation projects CCAPs in developing countries in terms of their targets and performance are presented and compared with those existing CCAPs in Egypt to draw learned lessons Climate change scenarios 2080 using simulations are portrayed and discussed with emphasis on a case study model from existing social housing projects in hot arid urban areas in Cairo in an effort to put forward an assessment and evaluation of current CCA techniques This book helps researchers realize the global impacts of climate change on the built environment and economic sectors and enhances their understanding of current climate change measures actions policies projects and scenarios Reviews and illustrates the impact of global climate change risks Provides an understanding of global climate change risks in seven continents Illustrates policies and action plans implemented at the global level and developing countries level Discusses climate change assessment and vulnerabilities with emphasis on urban areas Presents measures and action plans to mitigate climate change scenarios by 2080

Climate Change Remedies Jaap Spier,Ulrich Magnus,2014-07-01 Climate change poses very serious risks to mankind Adaptation and damages are emphasised more and more Although adaptation is important priority should be given to prevention mitigation The contributions in this volume emanate from an international research project that deals with a legal kaleidoscope of legal issues and focuses primarily on preventive remedies The contributions of Spier and Magnus tackle injunctive relief and discuss the myriad of legal questions courts have to answer if they are willing to grant injunctive relief This part of the book addresses procedural private international and substantive law Kemp s contribution discusses the role criminal law could play to come to grips with the threats of climate change So far the greater part of the debate is about the United States Europe and increasingly Asia Ruppel fills this gap by painting an African perspective

Mapping drought patterns and impacts: a global perspective Nishadi Eriyagama,V. Y. Smakhtin,Nilantha Gamage,2009 The study examines the global pattern and impacts of droughts through mapping several drought related characteristics either at a country level or at regular grid scales It appears that arid and semi arid areas also tend to have a higher probability of drought occurrence It is illustrated that the African continent is lagging behind the rest of the world on many indicators related to drought preparedness and that agricultural economies overall are much more vulnerable to adverse societal impacts of meteorological droughts The study also examines the ability of various countries to satisfy their water needs during droughts using storage related indices

Impacts of Global Change on the Hydrological Cycle in West and Northwest Africa Peter Speth,Michael Christoph,Bernd Diekkrüger,2010-08-12 Africa is highly vulnerable to the impacts of climate change In particular shortage of fresh water is expected to be the dominant water problem for West and Northwest Africa of the 21th century In order to solve present and projected future problems concerning fresh water supply a highly interdisciplinary approach is used in the book Strategies are offered for a sustainable and future oriented water management Based on different scenarios a range of management options is suggested with the aid of Information Systems and Spatial Decision Support Systems for two river catchments in Northwest and West Africa the wadi Dr a in south eastern Morocco and the Ou m basin in Benin The selected catchments are representative in the sense what can be learnt from these catchments for other
