Family Care of Older People in Europe Ian Philp, 2001 Developing appropriate responses to an ageing population is recognized by policy makers throughout the developed world as a top priority as is the vital contribution made by family caregivers However cultural demographic and organizational differences between countries have encouraged diverse patterns of response to this common challenge This book provides a systematic cross cultural analysis of contemporary patterns and future trends in all major countries of the European Union Additional interest is provided by including Poland emerging from the post Communist block as the country at the forefront for joining the European Union The book should be useful to European policy makers and academics involved in studying the health and social care needs of older people and the capacity contribution and needs of family caregivers who provide care to older people The book is also relevant for policy makers and researchers in other countries mostly in North America and Australia who wish to study European approaches to supporting older people and family caregivers

The Art and Science of Personalising Care with Older People with Diabetes Trisha Dunning, 2018-08-06 This unique book is intended for all health professionals caring for older people with diabetes such as specialist and general nurses doctors primary care practitioners and dietitians Although there is an increasing body of work about personalised care no publications were identified that encompass the focus and scope of the proposed book The global population is ageing and increasing age is a key risk factor for diabetes Older people with diabetes are often vulnerable have complex care needs and often have cognitive changes which makes personalising care challenging for health professionals Thus this is an internationally relevant book filling a gap in the current literature This is a practical and updated book that will use an engaging and easy to read narrative style It challenges readers to reflect in and on their practice It encompasses people with diabetes and authors stories which are known to have a special interest to readers make it easier to apply the information to practice enhance learning and hence the relevance and value of the book It is relevant to advocacy organisations as well as managers and service planners Researchers and scientists may find relevant information on grant and ethics applications research protocols plain language statements for potential participants and operationalising research protocols

Enjoying the Beat of Expression: An Emotional Symphony within Being With Older People Being With Older People

In a world used by screens and the ceaseless chatter of quick transmission, the melodic beauty and mental symphony developed by the published term frequently disappear in to the background, eclipsed by the persistent sound and disturbances that permeate our lives. However, nestled within the pages of Being With Older People Being With Older People an enchanting fictional value overflowing with raw thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Constructed by a masterful musician of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts viewers on a psychological journey, skillfully unraveling the hidden melodies and profound affect resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths of the touching analysis, we will examine the book's central harmonies, analyze its enthralling writing design, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers' souls.
