Asianet Channel Live:

Indian Silver Screen Dr. Paramveer Singh, 2021-08-05 Indian Silver Screen Television in India has been a medium of entertainment as well as social and economic awareness. It was started under government control as a medium of social awareness but now this medium has become an industry. There was a time when Doordarshan was the only channel on television in India but today hundreds of channels broadcast programs day and night. In India today there are many channels based on sports, news, film, documentary and music. There was a time when television programs could be viewed only through television sets but today through devices such as computers, laptops and mobiles, viewers can watch their favorite programs at their convenient location and time. The main objective of this book written on Indian television is to make students aware of the history and status of Indian television. The book begins with the story of the introduction of television in various countries. It describes the development of television in Britain, America, Australia, China, Africa and other countries of the continent of Asia. After this, the early experiments, projects and history and current status of television in India are told. Many of the chapters in the book are about the major television business groups in India that have deep penetration into the Indian television industry. The book also introduces programs that have become famous in India which have proved to be milestones in Indian television history and reached heights of popularity. Apart from this, the book describes the laws of India which have been implemented to control the television industry. A chapter in the book is written about various television broadcasting techniques practiced in the country. Apart from this, there is a chapter about Direct to Home which tells the story of the development of DTH in India. Television rating points determine the popularity of television channels and programs. The book introduces various agencies and institutions that determine TRP in India. In addition to this, the history of television journalism in India has also been discussed. A chapter about television journalism in various languages of India such as Hindi, Punjabi, Gujarati, Marathi, Tamil, Telugu, Kannada, Malayalam, Bengali and Assamese is described in detail. The last chapter of the book discusses various international television channels that are broadcasting in India. Regional Language Television in India Mira K. Desai, 2021-11-21 This book examines the evolution and journey of regional language television channels in India. The first of its kind, it looks at the coverage, uniqueness, ownership and audiences of regional channels in 14 different languages across India, covering Hindi, Bengali, Marathi, Telugu, Tamil, Urdu, Assamese, Bhojpuri, Gujarati, Kannada, Kashmiri, Odia, Punjabi and Malayalam. It brings together researchers, scholars, media professionals and communication teachers to document and reflect on language as the site of culture, politics, market and social representation. The volume discusses multiple media histories and their interlinkages from a subcontinental perspective by exploring the trajectories of regional language television through geographical boundaries, state language identities and culture. It offers comparative analyses across regional language television channels and presents interpretive insights on television culture and commerce, contemporary challenges, mass media technology and future relevance.
