Assessing Older Persons Measures Meaning And Practical Applications:

Assessing Older Persons Robert L. Kane, Rosalie A. Kane, 2000 This is a unique text and reference on the multidimensional assessment of older persons. It combines detailed accounts of measures for a wide range of functions with discussions of their applications in the care of older persons. The effort throughout is to combine information on specific measures with insight into how and when each measure should be used. Assessing Older Persons Marilyn Eells, 2004

The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Geropsychology Nancy A. Pachana, Ken Laidlaw, 2014-11-07 Throughout the world the population of older adults continues to grow. The rise in geriatric populations has seen an increase in research on clinical diagnostic assessment and treatment issues aimed at this population. Clinical geropsychologists have increased their interest both in providing mental health services as well as developing approaches to improve quality of life for all older adults. The Oxford Handbook of Clinical Geropsychology is a landmark publication in this field providing broad and authoritative coverage of the research and practice issues in clinical geropsychology today as well as innovations expanding the field's horizons. Comprising chapters from the foremost scholars in clinical geropsychology from around the world, the handbook captures the global proliferation of activity in this field. In addition to core sections on topics such as sources of psychological distress, assessment, diagnosis, and intervention, the handbook includes valuable chapters devoted to methodological issues such as longitudinal studies and meta-analyses in the field as well as new and emerging issues such as technological innovations and social media use in older populations. Each chapter offers a review of the most pertinent international literature, outlining current issues as well as important cultural implications and key practice issues where relevant and identifying possibilities for future research and policy applications. The book is essential to all psychology researchers, practitioners, educators, and students with an interest in the mental health of older adults. In addition, health professionals including psychiatrists, social workers, mental health nurses, and trainee geriatric mental health workers will find this an invaluable resource. Older adults comprise a growing percentage of the population worldwide. Clinical psychologists with an interest in older populations have increased the amount of research and applied knowledge about effectively improving mental health later in life, and this book captures that information on an international level. The book addresses how to diagnose, assess, and treat mental illness in older persons as well as ways to improve quality of life in all older persons. It has a great breadth of coverage of the area, including chapters spanning how research is conducted to how new technologies such as virtual reality and social media are used with older people to improve mental health. The book would appeal to all psychology researchers, practitioners, educators, and students with an interest in the mental health of older adults. It would also appeal to other health professionals including psychiatrists, social workers, and mental health nurses who work with older people. It is a valuable resource for trainee geriatric mental health workers because it highlights key readings and important practice implications in the field. Assessments, Treatments and Modeling in Aging and Neurological Disease Colin R.

Martin, Victor R Preedy, Rajkumar Rajendram, 2021-06-01 Assessments Treatments and Modeling in Aging and Neurological Disease The Neuroscience of Aging is a comprehensive reference on the diagnosis and management of neurological aging and associated disorders The book discusses the mechanisms underlying neurological aging and provides readers with a detailed introduction to the aging of neural connections and complexities in biological circuitries as well as the interactions between genetics epigenetics and other micro environmental processes It also examines pharmacological and non pharmacological interventions of age related conditions that affect the brain including Alzheimer s stroke and multiple sclerosis Provides the most comprehensive coverage of the broad range of topics related to the neuroscience of aging Features sections on diagnosis and biomarkers of neurological aging Alzheimer s and stroke Contains an abstract key facts a mini dictionary of terms and summary points in each chapter Focuses on neurological diseases and conditions linked to aging environmental factors and clinical recommendations Includes more than 500 illustrations and tables Measurement Scales Used in Elderly Care Abhaya Gupta, Almas Rehman, 2017-11-22 This unique concise ready reference for daily use collates for the first time the most useful practical and simple assessment scales used in geriatric settings It provides tools to identify clinical conditions and health outcomes objectively and reliably It is essential as a clinical primer and everyday reference guide for all practising and training members of multidisciplinary teams including consultants and doctors in specialist training career grade doctors and general practitioners and medical students nurses health visitors dieticians and social workers allied health professionals such as physiotherapists occupational therapists speech and language therapists and managers of elderly care services Assessment is central to the practice of Geriatric Medicine All members of the multidisciplinary team require a sound knowledge of the basic principles of measurement scales We need to be competent in using and selecting appropriate scales understanding which scales are valid and fit for purpose Unfortunately up to now this has been a difficult task often requiring reference to original papers Dr Gupta s scholarship has come to the rescue He has trawled through the many hundreds of scales available selecting those most useful for the specialty This book will be valuable to all members of the multidisciplinary team Dr Gupta has done an excellent job outlining the theory and practice of measurement scales He has put together an extremely useful compendium of scales I congratulate him and wish his publication every success I can foresee this publication becoming an essential text for every unit library and valuable book for individual clinicians Dr Jeremy Playfer in his Foreword This book summarises the most commonly used validated assessment scales which can be used by medical students postgraduate trainees consultants and the multi disciplinary team members I hope a copy of this book will be kept on every ward outpatient department and GP practice for daily use and reference Professor Bim Bhowmick OBE in his Foreword Assessing Older Persons Robert L. Kane, Rosalie A. Kane, 2000 This is a unique text and reference on the multidimensional assessment of older persons It combines detailed accounts of measures for a wide range of functions with discussions of their applications in the care of older persons The effort throughout is to combine information on specific measures with insight into how and when each measure should be used

Integrating Care for Older People Christopher Foote, Christine Stanners, 2002-05-23 The authors of this book share their practical experience of implementing a multi agency approach to the support of older people They show how systems thinking can help with the complexity of developing a model of care that co ordinates medical social and community services and offer insight into the effective use of on going assessment

Performance Indicators in Social Care for Older People David Challis, Paul Clarkson, 2017-03-02 The growing focus on performance review and monitoring means that awareness and use of performance indicators has increased throughout a number of public services Set within a national context this book reviews the historical development and measurement issues of performance indicators within social care and the public sector for older people It then provides an approach to effective local performance measurement in services for older people and an organizing framework within which organizations can arrange their performance appraisal for older people s services The development of performance review in social care of older people is examined as is the process of developing local performance measures and engaging staff in enquiry and quality management The book also reviews the process of developing performance indicators and their utilization at an agency level Performance Indicators in Social Care for Older People will be of particular interest in the UK for local service providers who are developing approaches for local performance review It will also be of interest internationally especially in countries where services for older people are currently developing in a similar direction

Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care Judith Howe, 2015-12-22 Examine recently developed concepts and strategies to help social workers and caregivers improve the quality of care for senior citizens Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care focuses on two major aspects of elderly care assessment and caregiving. This book examines assessment techniques and models used by social workers and other health care professionals to determine the type and extent of care necessary to meet the needs of the elderly. In addition, it voices recent concerns about the use of standardized models for all older adults. This book also addresses the burdens and benefits of being a caregiver to older relatives or friends and mentions several programs made available for caregivers through social services.

Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care reviews assessment techniques and practice models that address issues such as abuse and HIV/AIDS care. This book also provides information about currently overlooked issues that will increasingly affect assessment and intervention, including diversity in cultural or religious beliefs and sexual orientation. This book is also unique in its focus on those unsung unpaid heroes—relatives and friends who assist elderly companions with their financial, social, and physical daily needs.

With Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care, you will find vital information on two elderly victims' services: one involving social services and the other involving criminal action. The challenges of assessing older adults with HIV/AIDS, the pros and cons of long distance caregiving, a life course assessment intervention model used at military colleges to help officers prepare proactively for parent care, the Caregivers and Professionals Partnership (CAPP) which employs innovative outreach strategies to family caregivers of adults, the Northport VA Friendly Companion Program which enhances opportunities for interpersonal interaction, African American caregivers and their experiences with African American elders—social workers and caregivers will find the information in this book vital in their work.

Generously enhanced with tables, charts, case studies, references, and personal vignettes, Older People and Their Caregivers Across the Spectrum of Care will help you improve quality of life for the older adults of today and tomorrow.
