Liberating the Will of Australia Geoffrey Burn, 2020-08-03 Why do many First People in Australia find themselves continually under siege Why do many interventions fail to produce what was hoped for Why is it that when there have been many positive developments at some deep level nothing seems to have changed Will the Uluru Statement from the Heart ensure the future security of the First Peoples in Australia By developing strands from Christian theology Liberating the Will of Australia answers these questions in a way that gets to the heart of the problem It is shown that the way that the First Peoples were treated by the first European in comers became an indelible part of what Australia currently is This explains why harm is often done even when good is intended and why some problems are too complex to solve But that does not mean that we need to be stuck in the past through deep repentance by the Subsequent Peoples much more than an apology we can take hold of the work of God to bring new things out of what is broken Ultimately this is profoundly hopeful Although focusing on Australia the theological tools developed can be applied in other colonial and post colonial contexts

The Making of Australian Property Law A. R. Buck, 2006 In 1847 in one of the most important cases in Australian legal history the Chief Justice of NSW Sir Alfred Stephen handed down a decision that would have profound implications for both the development of Australian property law and the property rights of the Aboriginal peoples of Australia The case was Attorney General v Brown and in his decision Stephen CJ ruled that the laws of property in Australia were governed by feudal principles The shadow cast by Attorney General v Brown has been a long one stretching down to the decision in Mabo and beyond Judicial thinking and much legal scholarship continues to emphasise a connection between the feudal origins of the English law and the state of contemporary Australian property law thereby perpetuating a nostalgic view of Australian property law This book in contrast argues that the feudal imprint on property in Australia had been washed away by the early 1860s and that the decades of the early nineteenth century witnessed the making of a distinct Australian property law Egalitarianism rather than feudalism this book argues shaped the emergence of Australian property law This book situates legal development in its social and political context re evaluating the relationship between political ideas social values and law reform in early Australia State-Owned Entities and Human Rights Mihaela Maria Barnes,2021-12-02 Examines the fundamental role played by international law in the regulation of State owned entities from a human rights perspective Government Gazette New South Wales,1911
