Man Out Andrew L. Yarrow, 2018-09-11 The story of men who are hurting and hurting America by their absence Man Out describes the millions of men on the sidelines of life in the United States Many of them have been pushed out of the mainstream because of an economy and society where the odds are stacked against them others have chosen to be on the outskirts of twenty first century America These men are disconnected from work personal relationships family and children and civic and community life They may be angry at government employers women and the system in general and millions of them have done time in prison and have cast aside many social norms Sadly too many of these men are unsure what it means to be a man in contemporary society Wives or partners reject them children are estranged from them and family friends and neighbors are embarrassed by them Many have disappeared into a netherworld of drugs alcohol poor health loneliness misogyny economic insecurity online gaming pornography other off the grid corners of the internet and a fantasy world of starting their own business or even writing the Great American novel Most of the men described in this book are poorly educated with low incomes and often with very few prospects for rewarding employment They are also disproportionately found among millennials those over 50 and African American men Increasingly however these lost men are discovered even in tony suburbs and throughout the nation It is a myth that men on the outer corners of society are only lower middle class white men dislocated by technology and globalization Unlike those who primarily blame an unjust economy government policies or a culture sanctioning laziness Man Out explores the complex interplay between economics and culture It rejects the politically charged dichotomy of seeing such men as either victims or culprits These men are hurting and in turn they are hurting families and hurting America It is essential to address their problems Man Out draws on a wide range of data and existing research as well as interviews with several hundred men women and a wide variety of economists and other social scientists social service providers and physicians and with employers through a national online survey and in depth fieldwork in several communities
