

Question 1

ABC company is considering replacing their old manual loading machine with an automatic loading machine. The manual machine cost $300,000 three years ago, and is being depreciated over 10 years straight line depreciation, with no salvage value.

If ABC replaces the manual machine, the new automatic machine will cost $480,000 and have a useful life of 12 years. This will also be depreciated on a straight line basis to zero. As a result of this new machine, there will be pretax savings of $135,000 in labour costs and $25,000 in other cash expenses annually.

If the automatic machine is purchased, the old machine will immediately be sold at a price of $280,000. The company has already spent $15,000 researching the costs associated with this decision.

The company's tax rate is 40% and no inflation is expected. The company's cost of capital is 7%.

Required:

- a) Calculate the after tax cashflows over the investment horizon. (11 marks)
- b) Determine whether or not ABC should accept the project based on the Net Present Value of the decision. (4 marks)
