

Unit 1 Review

1. What is the difference between the three types of representative democracies: participatory democracy, pluralist democracy, and elite democracy?
 - Participatory – the people directly have the power to make policy
 - Pluralist – different groups compete/have power to make policy
 - Elite – a small group of people who have more power, make policy
2. Give examples of how participatory democracy is presented in American government.
State/local levels of government – initiative, referendum, & recall
 - Initiative – the people initiate/begin a law themselves
 - Referendum – the people vote directly on a law
 - Recall – the people can vote an elected official out of office before their term ends
3. Give examples of how pluralist democracy is presented in American government.
 - Interest groups
 - Political parties
4. Give examples of how elite democracy is presented in American government.
 - Old, white, rich, Protestant, men = Congress
 - Electoral College (electors choose the President)
5. Define popular sovereignty. How is this reflected in American government?
 - Consent of the governed/Government is created and given its power by the people
 - We choose our representatives (Congress members)
6. Define limited government. How is this reflected in American government?
 - A government that has limited powers (Constitution will limit the powers of the government)
 - Separation of powers, checks and balances, federalism, Bill of Rights
7. Define social contract. How is this reflected in American government?
 - Agreement between the people and government (people will agree to give up some freedoms/rights in order to be protected by the government)
 - Bill of Rights is not absolute (ex: can't yell fire in crowded movie theater), PATRIOT ACT after 9/11
8. Define republic. How is this reflected in American government?
 - Political system where people choose representatives to represent them
 - Electing our Congress members
9. What Enlightenment philosopher came up with the idea of natural rights? According to this person

The Invention of Ecocide David Zierler, 2011-05-01 As the public increasingly questioned the war in Vietnam a group of American scientists deeply concerned about the use of Agent Orange and other herbicides started a movement to ban what they called ecocide David Zierler traces this movement starting in the 1940s when weed killer was developed in agricultural circles and theories of counterinsurgency were studied by the military These two trajectories converged in 1961 with Operation Ranch Hand the joint U S South Vietnamese mission to use herbicidal warfare as a means to defoliate large areas of enemy territory Driven by the idea that humans were altering the world's ecology for the worse a group of scientists relentlessly challenged Pentagon assurances of safety citing possible long term environmental and health effects It wasn't until 1970 that the scientists gained access to sprayed zones confirming that a major ecological disaster had occurred Their findings convinced the U S government to renounce first use of herbicides in future wars and Zierler argues fundamentally reoriented thinking about warfare and environmental security in the next forty years Incorporating in depth interviews unique archival collections and recently declassified national security documents Zierler examines the movement to ban ecocide as it played out amid the rise of a global environmental consciousness and growing disillusionment with the containment policies of the cold war era Papers Relating to the Foreign Relations of the United States United States. Department of State,1889 Prior to 1870 the series was published under various names From 1870 to 1947 the uniform title Papers Relating to the Foreign Relations of the United States was used From 1947 to 1969 the name was changed to Foreign Relations of the United States Diplomatic Papers After that date the current name was adopted Circular United States.
