Action Research Primer Peter Lang Primer:

Action Research Primer Patricia H. Hinchey, 2008 Despite the fact that publishers and policy makers have had increasing influence over classrooms it is the teacher who must make decisions on a minute by minute basis about what will help specific students learn Similarly local administrators must make key decisions at the school and district level that will best serve particular communities of teachers students and parents Action research offers educators and other stakeholders a systematic way to research and reflect on specific students classrooms schools and communities in order to solve local problems and improve local conditions This book offers an overview of various definitions and perspectives on action research without prescribing any single approach Instead key questions are explored Who conducts action research Why How Possible answers sketch the many types of possible projects ranging from an individual teacher trying to improve the experience of a particular student to a group of educators and community members striving to improve local socioeconomic conditions The Action Research Primer presents an accessible but comprehensive introduction to the field providing a basic compass and map for the interested practitioner Chapters include a brief historical overview an introduction to competing research paradigms discussion of key issues that inform project design a serviceable guide to process and an extensive list of resources pointing to more detail on the many categories communities and publication outlets of action research

Enhancing Practice through Classroom Research Caitriona McDonagh, Mary Roche, Bernie Sullivan, Máirín Glenn, 2013-06-17 Enhancing Practice through Classroom Research is an accessible introduction to understanding and improving teaching and learning through a process of reflection research and action Written by teachers for teachers it offers a straightforward guide to classroom research and considers issues central to effective professional development Including questions for reflection and illustrated with case studies and vignettes of the authors own experiences of undertaking classroom research it offers a step by step guide to beginning your own research identifying an area of professional concern or interest articulating your own educational values developing a better understanding of your practice thinking critically about educational practices depicting practice as it is and as it evolves finding a research methodology providing evidence of improved practice developing theory from practice Acknowledging the busy nature of classroom teaching and focussing on personalising professional development this friendly sensible text offers support and guidance for all student and practising teachers interested in research either for your own professional development or to pursue postgraduate studies in your area of interest

Action Research S. Michael Putman, Tracy Rock, 2016-12-29 Action Research Using Strategic Inquiry to Improve Teaching and Learning is a core text for the Action Research course in Education The proposed text seeks to address the needs of practitioners as it will be primarily written for use within a graduate level action research class It will be oriented towards proactive planning as part of an organized efficient process for developing and conducting an action research study The book will be organized around implementation of the action research process using self regulatory principles which is characterized by four phases task definition goal setting and planning enacting and adapting These four phases will be addressed as the learner considers what action research encompasses and a topic to be studied then proceeds to establish a plan and enact it This overall process is organized as can be seen in the Table of Contents Michael Putnam and Tracy Rock will highlight methods and processes that incorporate formative data that is readily available to teachers facilitating associations between classroom instruction and the action research process The text will also reinforce how action research can improve the teaching and learning process by reinforcing or changing perceptions about the use of informal data including anecdotal notes or observations in the research process

Mixed Methods Applications in Action Research Nataliya V. Ivankova,2015 This text outlines and explains in detail the necessary steps in designing conducting implementing and reporting an action research study with a solid mixed methods foundation

The Routledge Handbook for Advancing Integration in Mixed Methods Research John H. Hitchcock,Anthony J. Onwuegbuzie,2022-05-10 This groundbreaking edited book The Routledge Handbook for Advancing Integration in Mixed Methods Research presents an array of different integration ideas with contributions from scholars across the globe This handbook represents the first major volume that comprehensively discusses this topic of integration Perhaps the most fundamental and longstanding question in mixed methods research is How does one best integrate disparate forms of information to produce the best form of inquiry Each of the 34 seminal chapters in this handbook accelerates the discussion of integration across a broad range of disciplines including education arts based analyses and work in the Global South as well as special topics such as psychometrics and media research Many of the chapters present new topics that have never been written about before and all chapters offer cutting edge approaches to integration They also offer different perspectives of integration leading the introductory chapter to offer a new and comprehensive definition for integration as follows referring to the optimal mixing combining blending amalgamating incorporating joining linking merging consolidating or unifying of research approaches methodologies philosophies methods techniques concepts language modes disciplines fields and or teams within a single study The concluding chapter offers a meta framework that accounts for this definition and is designed to help scholars think more about integration in a way that represents a continuous dynamic iterative interactive synergistic and holistic meaning making process This handbook will be an essential reference work for all scholars and practitioners using or seeking to use mixed methods in their research

Action Research Jerry W. Willis,Claudia Edwards,2014-08-01 The first three chapters of Action Research Models Methods and Examples covers the history foundations and basics of conducting action research projects In those chapters you will learn about the origins of action research as well as about the different methods and models of action research from the original approaches used by Kurt Lewin and his students in the 1940s and 1950s to the diversity of current approaches to AR that are used to develop both solutions to real world problems and to construct a better understanding of important issues and concern in communities schools businesses and organizations The nine chapters in the second part of the book illustrate the many ways action research is practiced today Those chapters illustrate the use of action research methods to accomplish everything from individual personal professional development to changing policies and practices in large organizations and systems The chapters detail many specific methods of doing AR such as participatory action research emancipatory action research designbased action research collaborative inquiry and many others

Arts-Based Educational Research and Qualitative Inquiry Thalia M. Mulvihill, Raji Swaminathan, 2019-11-04 Awarded QRSIG s Honorable Mention for 2021 2020 AESA Critics Choice Book Award Winner Arts Based Educational Research and Qualitative Inquiry introduces novice qualitative researchers within education and related fields to arts based educational research ABER Abundant prompts and exercises are provided to help readers apply the concepts and experiment with various applications of the ideas presented The authors walk the path with novice researchers offering a variety of approaches to the practice of arts based methods while providing a guided overview of ABER and include pedagogical features in each chapter Exercises are designed to assist educational researchers who wish to expand their repertoire of methodologies The authors also weave into the discussion the possibilities and limitations of many types of arts based methods while introducing readers to the growing methodological literature By offering a tapestry of ways to engage the novice researcher the book illustrates that it is not always possible to separate cognitive findings from aesthetic knowing This book will help qualitative researchers to expand their methodologies to include arts based approaches to their projects and by doing so reshape their identities as qualitative researchers It also offers some evaluative criteria and tool kits for experimenting with various arts and educational research

Development, Education, and Participatory Action Research to Empower Marginalized Groups Shireen Keyl, 2022-09-12 Drawing on a rich variety of participatory action research methods including ethnographic observation artefact collection focus groups and interviews this volume explores the transformational potential of development programs which actively involve marginalized groups Foregrounding the experiences of women migrant workers in Beirut the text reveals how direct participation in NGO led community programs and education empowers women to create counter cultural communities and spaces for learning and activism The text ultimately combines aspects of critical pedagogy spatial analysis and Third World feminisms to propose a critical subaltern praxis for research development and teaching It will appeal to scholars and researchers with interests in research methods in education migration equality and human rights and the anthropology of education

Postgraduate Programmes as Platform , 2007-01-01 Typical of postgraduate courses for experienced teachers is the wealth of professional experience that the students bring with them Such students can examine their own practice for which they are fully responsible Postgraduate programmes are therefore challenged to create a flexible and research led infrastructure that can respond to developments in the educational field and relate these developments to educational philosophical conceptual and moral issues Through the creation of a platform for such activities the professional development of postgraduate students can be enriched Authors from diverse backgrounds address important aspects of the platform such as the relation between tutors and students teachers professional identity the voice of pupils the characteristics of teachers workplace of the participating professionals the relationship between action research and teacher leadership This book offers inspiring and thought provoking ideas to all involved in postgraduate programmes in teacher education teacher educators policy makers researchers administrators and schools collaborating with staff of postgraduate courses and their students The book is an initiative of the Research Group Interactive Professionalism and Knowledge Development at Fontys University of Applied Sciences Department of Inclusive and Special Education The Netherlands

Movie Making as Critical Pedagogy Grady Walker, 2018-09-01 Can the stories people tell influence the way they see the world This book seeks to address that question through a study of the viability of movie making as a critical pedagogy activity Positioned at the intersection of education and communication for social change it explores the relationship between the generation of subjective knowledge through storytelling and analysis and systemic change Central to the book is a case study from Nepal By using video as the action element and analytical material of coursework youth participants generated a new critical awareness engendered by themes arising from group discussion Through the analysis of these themes participants initiated an emergence known as conscientization Led by two critical educators participants used the production screening and analysis of their own movies to propel the course or praxis forward This book seeks to inform the practice of critical pedagogy both practically and theoretically and also offers a contribution to the fields of participatory action research and communication for social change
