Asa Umpire Manual 2013 Rules:

Ex Aequo et Bono as a Response to the 'Over-Judicialisation' of International Commercial Arbitration Nobumichi Teramura, 2020-05-12 Despite its many distinguished proponents over time ex aequo et bono the idea of deciding disputes on the basis of what an adjudicator regards as fair and equitable has failed to take hold in international commercial arbitration ICA Formalisation and fossilisation of arbitral procedure as manifested in the increasing use of litigation style practice unfortunately reign instead This bold and challenging book argues that parties to an arbitration should be more willing for their cross border disputes to be decided and arbitrators should be more prepared to decide those disputes in accordance with broad principles of equity and fairness rather than by strict adherence to technical rules of law Putting forward suggestions based on extensive research and doctrinal considerations this book invites us to confront what ICA was supposed to be what it now is and what it can be In particular Dr Teramura discusses how by resorting to ex aequo et bono arbitrators can construe contractual terms including the limits apply trade usages deal with mandatory rules of a given forum or place of performance minimise the cost and length of time that arbitration takes avoid the abuse of discretion and ensure predictable results The book examines significant differences in the way that ex aequo et bono arbitration is understood among various state and international institutions It attempts to identify a common core of universally accepted concepts underlying those different understandings The book argues that ex aequo et bono has the potential to reform ICA without undermining its positive aspects Along the way it discusses the implications of ex aequo et bono arbitration on the now widely used UNCITRAL Model Law on ICA It should thus appeal to lay business persons and commercial law practitioners who are looking for an economical and efficient way to solve business disputes within a globalised arbitration framework
