Asia Pacific Security Cooperation National Interests And Regional Order:

Asia-Pacific Security Cooperation See Seng Tan, Amitav Acharya, 2004 New developments in the Asia Pacific are forcing regional officials to rethink the way they manage security issues The contributors to this work explore why some forms of security cooperation and institutionalisation in the region have proven more feasible than others This work describes the emergence of the professions in late tsarist Russia and their struggle for autonomy from the aristocratic state It also examines the ways in which the Russian professions both resembled and differed from their Western counterparts

Bilateralism, Multilateralism and Asia-Pacific Security William Tow, Brendan Taylor, 2013-09-02 Many scholars of international relations in Asia regard bilateralism and multilateralism as alternative and mutually exclusive approaches to security co operation They argue that multilateral associations such as ASEAN will eventually replace the system of bilateral alliances which were the predominant form of U S security co operation with Asia Pacific allies during the Cold War Yet these bilateral alliances continue to be the primary means of the United States strategic engagement with the region This book contends that bilateralism and multilateralism are not mutually exclusive and that bilateralism is likely to continue strong even as multilateralism strengthens It explores a wide range of issues connected with this question It discusses how US bilateral alliances have been reinvigorated in recent years examines how bilateral and multilateral approaches to specific problems can work alongside each other and concludes by considering how patterns of international security are likely to develop in the region in future

Order and Security in Southeast Asia Ralf Emmers, Joseph Liow, 2006-04-07 Michael Leifer who died in 2001 was one of the leading scholars of Southeast Asian international relations He was hugely influential through his extensive writings and his contacts with people in government and business in the region In this book many of Leifer s students colleagues and friends come together to explore the key themes of his work on Southeast Asia including the notion of order security maritime law and foreign policy The book concludes with an overall assessment of Leifer s background worldview and impact on his field A scholarly and personal volume devoted to Leifer s vast contributions to the discipline of international relations this text is a must read for students and scholars specializing in the region

Handbook of Asian Security Studies Sumit Ganguly, Andrew Scobell, Joseph Liow, 2009

US Security Engagement with Southeast Asia during the Clinton and Bush Pham Cao Cuong, 2025-02-01 This book examines Southeast Asia s role in US security policy toward the region during the Bill Clinton and George W Bush administrations It delves into the US security approach toward regional institutions like ASEAN and the ARF and hones in on specific ASEAN member states including the Philippines Thailand Singapore Indonesia and Malaysia as well as the interaction between the US and these countries regarding security Despite Southeast Asia not being a primary priority in US foreign policy since the end of the Cold War the region has consistently held significance in Washington s security strategy Given the goal of establishing a New Pacific Community it is critical for the United States to ensure a peaceful and stable Southeast Asia thereby avoiding the emergence of any potential future rivals to the United States To effectively implement the Clinton Doctrine s security pillar the United States has taken measures such as providing military aid and increasing military activities with ASEAN member countries During President George W Bush s administration Southeast Asia gained increased significance for the United States economically and geostrategically Since September 11 2001 Southeast Asia has emerged as a crucial player in the US security strategy The US recognises the region as a second front in its global war on terrorism Furthermore the US has been actively enhancing its ties with ASEAN and the ARF while prioritising the development of bilateral relations with crucial ASEAN member countries including the Philippines Thailand Singapore Indonesia and Malaysia Looking ahead the United States aims to ensure that no potential competitors arise in the region that could challenge its future dominance When examining the dynamics between the US and Southeast Asia it becomes evident that the influence of China has consistently been significant During the 1990s and 2000s China played an important role in shaping US security policy in the region and influencing the relationship between the US and ASEAN member countries The rise of China s economic and military power compelled the United States to shift its regional policy towards cooperation and competition to increase its interests in Southeast Asia Meanwhile the US security relationship with each ASEAN member country has many nuances depending on each country s role and interests towards the US To provide readers with a comprehensive perspective and enhance their understanding of US security policy towards the Southeast Asia region particularly in light of the growing emphasis on the Indo Pacific region with Southeast Asia at its core we would like to introduce the book US Security Engagement with Southeast Asia during the Clinton and Bush Administrations authored by Pham Cao Cuong This research comprehensively analyses the relationship between the United States and Southeast Asia It is included in the research work catalogue on US President Bill Clinton It can be found at the William J Clinton Library and Museum in the Clinton Presidential Park and Centre Little Rock Arkansas Furthermore this research work on terrorism is included in the Bibliography Terrorism by Region Southeast Asia compiled and selected by the Terrorism Research Initiative Terrorism Research Centre TRC The book highlights the importance of studying the history of US security policy towards Southeast Asia and the security relations between the US and ASEAN member countries Research on the security relations between the US and this region indicates that historical issues significantly impact the US s relations with the area The foundations that the US has established in Southeast Asia play a crucial role in shaping these relations

Global International Relations in Southeast Asia Chanintira na Thalang, Yong-Soo Eun, 2024-08-02 This edited volume explores the contours of Global International Relations IR in terms of teaching and research in Southeast Asia and China with the purpose of revealing existing and hidden pre theories conceptual frameworks and theoretical contributions to Global IR rooted in local histories contemporary experiences and indigenous thought The exploration is conducted within a context where scholars across regions are progressively taking strides to reshape IR which has long gravitated towards Western experiences thought and knowledge into a more inclusive discipline Otherwise known as the Global IR project these efforts aim not only to amplify marginalized voices and experiences but also introduce new conceptual and theoretical tools derived from a diverse range of experiences While some of these insights provide new understandings others offer useful implications that transcend national and regional boundaries fostering crossregional discussions about the diverse realities within our world An essential read for scholars and students of IR with an interest in Global IR IR theory in general and the development of IR in parts of Southeast Asia South Korean Strategic Thought toward Asia G. Rozman,I. Hyun,Shin-wha Lee,2008-04-28 At the crossroads of Northeast Asia South Korea provides a critical vantage point for viewing changes in the region This comprehensive review of the past quarter century covers its strategic thinking in regard to China Japan Russia regionalism and reunification UN Peace Operations and Asian Security Mely Cabellero-Anthony,Amitav Acharya,2005-09-27 This is an unparalleled analysis of the state of the United Nations peace operations and their impact on Asian security This new volume examines new strategies being adopted by the UN including doctrinal shifts in peace operation and assesses the division of labour between the UN regional organisation and non governmental organisations actors Based on selected papers from mostly Asian scholars the book offers regional perspectives from South Southeast and Northeast Asia on the changing nature of UN Peace operations and analyses some of the core issues that are of critical relevance to regional security in Asia In addition it reveals interesting new insights on the new players in the area of peace operations i e China and Japan and considers their projected roles as defined by their respective security concepts It also delves into issues of possible areas of concern caused by the new activism of these regional powers in peace operations Finally the book also revisits the significant lessons learnt from the UN experience in Cambodia and East Timor and examines their impact on future directions of peace operations This book was previously published as a special issue of the leading journal International Peacekeeping Maritime Security Partnerships National Research Council,Division on Engineering and Physical Sciences,Naval Studies Board,Committee on the "1,000-Ship Navy" - A Distributed and Global Maritime Network,2009-01-16 To offer security in the maritime domain governments around the world need the capabilities to directly confront common threats like piracy drug trafficking and illegal immigration No single navy or nation can do this alone Recognizing this new international security landscape the former Chief of Naval Operations called for a collaborative international approach to maritime security initially branded the 1 000 ship Navy This concept envisions U S naval forces partnering with multinational federal state local and private sector entities to ensure freedom of navigation the flow of commerce and the protection of ocean resources This new book from the National Research Council examines the technical and operational implications of the 1 000 ship Navy as they apply to four levels of cooperative efforts U S Navy Coast Guard and merchant shipping only U S naval and maritime assets with others in treaty alliances or analogous arrangements U S naval and maritime assets with ad hoc coalitions and U S naval and maritime assets with others than above who may now be friendly but could potentially be hostile for special purposes such as deterrence of piracy or other criminal activity

Elusive Balances Prashanth Parameswaran, 2022-01-13 This book undertakes an in depth examination of the dynamics of commitment in U S Southeast Asia strategy Drawing on cases including the U S withdrawal from Vietnam and Washington s pivot to Asia amid China s growing regional role it constructs an original balance of commitment model to explain continuity and change in U S Southeast Asia policy Balance of commitment goes beyond balance of power approaches to explain how translating Southeast Asia s importance in U S thinking into actual commitments has proven challenging for policymakers as it requires simultaneously calibrating adjustments to power shifts threat perceptions and resource extraction The book applies the balance of commitment approach to several practical case studies based on hundreds of conversations with policymakers and experts in the United States and Southeast Asia personal experiences across nearly two decades and primary and secondary source material across a half century The findings suggest that the challenges of U S commitment to the region are rooted not simply in differences between administrations or divergences in outlook between Washington and regional capitals but tough balancing acts for U S policymakers in domestic politics and wider foreign policy As such shaping U S strategy in Southeast Asia and calibrating and sustaining commitment requires not just appreciating Southeast Asia s significance but committing to the region in ways that manage structural aspects of U S thinking capabilities and resourcing
