any acute often unexpected condition Many of the medical difficulties associated with trauma occur in a relatively brief period that spans from the first call for help to the initiation of first aid measures A correct approach depends on the availability of experienced personnel The first measures of aid must guarantee above all the patient's survival The most critical initial phases of care to trauma patients are represented by the triad first aid triage and transport Specific morbidity indices whether anatomical functional or mixed are indispensable elements for monitoring a patient's clinical evolution The immediate availability of essential drugs is imperative to confront the clinical situations that often present in the acute post-traumatic phase
