Jewish Communities of India Joan G. Roland, 2018-01-16 Although the Bene Israel community of western India the Baghdadi Jews of Bombay and Calcutta and the Cochin Jews of the Malabar Coast form a tiny segment of the Indian population their long term residence within a vastly different culture has always made them the subject of much curiosity India is perhaps the one country in the world where Jews have never been exposed to anti-Semitism but in the last century they have had to struggle to maintain their identity as they encountered two competing nationalisms Indian nationalism and Zionism Focusing primarily on the Bene Israel and Baghdadis in the late nineteenth and twentieth centuries Joan Roland describes how identities begun under the Indian caste system changed with British colonial rule and then how the struggle for Indian independence and the establishment of a Jewish homeland raised even further questions She also discusses the experiences of European Jewish refugees who arrived in India after 1933 and remained there until after World War II To describe what it meant to be a Jew in India Roland draws on a wealth of materials such as Indian Jewish periodicals official and private archives and extensive interviews Historians Judaic studies specialist India area scholars postcolonialist and sociologists will all find this book to be an engaging study A new final chapter discusses the position of the remaining Jews in India as well as the status of Indian Jews in Israel at the end of the twentieth century

A Historical Syntax of Late Middle Indo-Aryan (Apabhraṃśa) Vít Bubeník, 1998-01-01 This monograph aims to close the gap in our knowledge of the nature and pace of grammatical change during the formative period of today's Indo Aryan languages During the 6th-12th c the gradual erosion of the synthetic morphology of Old Indo Aryan resulted ultimately in the remodelling of its syntax in the direction of the New Indo Aryan analytic type This study concentrates on the emergence and development of the ergative construction in terms of the passive to ergative reanalysis and the co-existence of the ergative construction with the old and new analytic passive constructions Special attention is paid to the actuation problem seen as the tug of war between conservative and eliminative forces during their development Other chapters deal with the evolution of grammatical and lexical aspect causativization modality absolute constructions and subordination This study is based on a wealth of new data gleaned from original poetic works in Apabhraṃśa by Svayambhadradeva Puṣpadanta Haribhadra Somaprabha et al It contains sections dealing with descriptive techniques of Medieval Indian grammarians esp Hemacandra All the Sanskrit Prakrit and Apabhraṃśa examples are consistently parsed and translated The opus is cast in the theoretical framework of Functional Grammar of the Prague and Amsterdam Schools It should be of particular interest to scholars and students of Indo Aryan and general historical linguistics especially those interested in the issues of morphosyntactic change and typology in their sociohistorical setting
