Dina Rasor, Robert Bauman, 2007-05-01 In this shocking exposé two government fraud experts reveal how private contractors have put the lives of countless American soldiers on the line while damaging our strategic interests and our image abroad From the shameful war profiteering of companies like Halliburton KBR to the sinister influence that corporate lobbyists have on American foreign policy Dina Rasor and Robert H Bauman paint a disturbing picture Here they give the inside story on troops forced to subsist on little food and contaminated water on officers afraid to lodge complaints because of Halliburton's political clout on millions of dollars in contractors bogus claims that are funded by American taxpayers Drawing on exclusive sources within government and the military the authors show how money and power have conspired to undermine our fighting forces and threaten the security of our country The Lonely Soldier Helen Benedict, 2010-04-01 The Lonely Soldier the inspiration for the documentary The Invisible War vividly tells the stories of five women who fought in Iraq between 2003 and 2006 and of the challenges they faced while fighting a war painfully alone More American women have fought and died in Iraq than in any war since World War Two yet as soldiers they are still painfully alone In Iraq only one in ten troops is a woman and she often serves in a unit with few other women or none at all This isolation along with the military's deep seated hostility toward women causes problems that many female soldiers find as hard to cope with as war itself degradation sexual persecution by their comrades and loneliness instead of the camaraderie that every soldier depends on for comfort and survival As one female soldier said I ended up waging my own war against an enemy dressed in the same uniform as mine In The Lonely Soldier Benedict tells the stories of five women who fought in Iraq between 2003 and 2006 She follows them from their childhoods to their enlistments then takes them through their training to war and home again all the while setting the war's events in context We meet Jen White and from a working class town in the heartland who still shakes from her wartime traumas Abbie who rebelled against a household of liberal Democrats by enlisting in the National Guard Mickiela a Mexican American who grew up with a family entangled in L A gangs Terris an African American mother from D C whose childhood was torn by violence and Eli PaintedCrow who joined the military to follow Native American tradition and to escape a life of

Faulknerian hardship Between these stories Benedict weaves those of the forty other Iraq War veterans she interviewed illuminating the complex issues of war and misogyny class race homophobia and post traumatic stress disorder Each of these stories is unique yet collectively they add up to a heartbreaking picture of the sacrifices women soldiers are making for this country Benedict ends by showing how these women came to face the truth of war and by offering suggestions for how the military can improve conditions for female soldiers including distributing women more evenly throughout units and rejecting male recruits with records of violence against women Humanizing urgent and powerful The Lonely Soldier is a clarion call for change

First Class Passengers on a Sinking Ship Richard Lachmann,2020-01-14 Why great powers decline from Spain to the United States The extent and irreversibility of US decline is becoming ever more obvious as America loses war after war and as one industry after another loses its technological edge Lachmann explains why the United States will not be able to sustain its global dominance and contrasts America s relatively brief period of hegemony with the Netherlands similarly short primacy and Britain s far longer era of leadership Decline in all those cases was not inevitable and did not respond to global capitalist cycles Rather decline is the product of elites success in grabbing control over resources and governmental powers Not only are ordinary people harmed but also capitalists become increasingly unable to coordinate their interests and adopt policies and make investments necessary to counter economic and geopolitical competitors elsewhere in the world Conflicts among elites and challenges by non elites determine the timing and mold the contours of decline Lachmann traces the transformation of US politics from an era of elite consensus to present day paralysis combined with neoliberal plunder explains the paradox of an American military with an unprecedented technological edge unable to subdue even the weakest enemies and the consequences of finance s cannibalization of the US economy The Routledge Handbook of Security Studies Myriam Dunn Cavelty,Victor Mauer,Thierry Balzacq,2009-12-16 Pt 1 Theoretical approaches to security and different securities pt 2 Contemporary security challenges pt 3 Regional security challenges pt 4 Confronting security challenges

The Military and the Market Jennifer Mittelstadt, Mark R. Wilson, 2022-10-11 Throughout its history the U S military has worked in close connection to market based institutions and structures It has run systems of free and unfree labor taken over private sector firms and both spurred and snuffed out economic development It has created new markets for consumer products for sex work and for new technologies It has operated as a regulator of industries and firms and an arbitrator of labor practices And in recent decades it has gone so far as to refashion itself from the inside so as to become more similar to a for profit corporation The Military and the Market covers two centuries of history of the U S military s vast and varied economic operations including its often tense relationships with capitalist markets Collecting new scholarship at the intersection of the fields of military history business history policy history and the history of capitalism the nine chapters feature important new research on subjects ranging from Civil War soldier entrepreneurs to the business of the construction of housing and overseas bases for the Cold War to the U S military s troubled relationships with markets for sex The volume enriches scholars understandings of the depth and complexity of military market relations in U S history and offers today s military policymakers novel insights about the origins of current arrangements and how they might be reimagined Contributors Jessica L Adler Timothy Barker Patrick Chung Gretchen Heefner Jennifer Mittelstadt A Junn Murphy Kara Dixon Vuic Sarah Jones Weicksel Mark R Wilson Daniel Wirls
