Beyond The Walls New Perspectives On The Archaeology Of Historical Households:

Beyond the Walls Kevin R. Fogle, James A. Nyman, Mary C. Beaudry, 2019-03-01 This collection showcases the work of leading household archaeologists and scholars studying domestic production and consumption patterns across a spectrum of time periods areas and cultures in North America

Households in Context Caitlín Eilís Barrett, Jennifer Carrington, 2024-01-15 Households in Context shifts the focus from monumental temples tombs and elite material and visual culture to households and domestic life to provide a crucial new perspective on everyday dwelling practices and the interactions of families and individuals with larger social and cultural structures A focus on households reveals the power of the everyday the critical role of quotidian experiences objects and images in creating the worlds of the people who live with them The contributors to this book share contemporary research on houses and households in both Ptolemaic and Roman Egypt to reshape the ways we think about ancient people s lived experiences of family community and society Households in Context places the archaeology and history of Greco Roman Egypt in dialogue with research on dwelling daily practice and materiality to reveal how ancient households functioned as laboratories for social political economic and religious change Contributors Youssri Abdelwahed Richard Alston Anna Lucille Boozer Paola Davoli David Frankfurter Jennifer Gates Foster Melanie Godsey Darlene L Brooks Hedstrom Sabine R Huebner Gregory Marouard Miriam M ller Lisa Nevett B rang re Redon Bethany Simpson Ross I Thomas Dorothy J Thompson

Houses, Families, and Cohabitation Dag Lindström, Göran Tagesson, 2024-11-05 This book is an interdisciplinary study that draws on a combination of archaeological evidence building archaeological analysis archival sources to explore the dynamic relations between dwelling houses social organization of households and patterns of cohabitation during the eighteenth century The empirical focus of this book is on Swedish towns but it also addresses more general issues about urbanity and urban life space and social organization and materiality and individual agency Aggregated questions about urban life and urban space are combined with a micro historical method revealing aspects of daily life and urban change This study unveils a previously neglected history Swedish eighteenth century towns have commonly been identified as a territory characterized by its sleepy absence of change This study proves the opposite Houses were built larger with more diverse and complex inner structures Family structures changed households generally became smaller the share of households headed by a married couple declined and the number of single households increased Population density increased the number of families residing in the same house increased and rental accommodation became more prevalent This volume is essential reading for anyone interested in early modern housing urban change and interdisciplinary methods

Critical Public Archaeology Camille Westmont, 2022-09-13 Critical approaches to public archaeology have been in use since the 1980s however only recently have archaeologists begun using critical theory in conjunction with public archaeology to challenge dominant narratives of the past This volume brings together current work on the theory and practice of critical public archaeology from Europe and the United States to illustrate the ways that implementing critical approaches can introduce new understandings of the past and reveal new insights on the present Contributors to this volume explore public perceptions of museum interpretations as well as public archaeology projects related to changing perceptions of immigration the working classes and race

The Routledge Handbook of Global Historical Archaeology Charles E. Orser, Jr., Andres Zarankin, Pedro Funari, Susan Lawrence, James Symonds, 2020-07-26 The Routledge Handbook of Global Historical Archaeology is a multi authored compendium of articles on specific topics of interest to today s historical archaeologists offering perspectives on the current state of research and collectively outlining future directions for the field The broad range of topics covered in this volume allows for specificity within individual chapters while building to a cumulative overview of the field of historical archaeology as it stands and where it could go next Archaeological research is discussed in the context of current sociological concerns different approaches and techniques are assessed and potential advances are posited This is a comprehensive treatment of the sub discipline engaging key contemporary debates and providing a series of specially commissioned geographical overviews to complement the more theoretical explorations This book is designed to offer a starting point for students who may wish to pursue particular topics in more depth as well as for non archaeologists who have an interest in historical archaeology Archaeologists historians preservationists and all scholars interested in the role historical archaeology plays in illuminating daily life during the past five centuries will find this volume engaging and enlightening

Preservation and Place Katherine Crawford-Lackey, Megan E. Springate, 2019-09-04 Significant historic and archaeological sites affiliated with two spirit lesbian gay bisexual transgender and queer history in the United States are examined in this unique volume The importance of the preservation process in documenting and interpreting the lives and experiences of queer Americans is emphasized The book features chapters on archaeology and interpretation as well as several case studies focusing on queer preservation projects The accessible text and associated activities create an interactive and collaborative process that encourages readers to apply the material in a hands on setting

Human Evolutionary Demography Oskar Burger, Ronald Lee, Rebecca Sear, 2024-06-14 Human evolutionary demography is an emerging field blending natural science with social science This edited volume provides a much needed interdisciplinary introduction to the field and highlights cutting edge research for interested readers and researchers in demography the evolutionary behavioural sciences biology and related disciplines By bridging the boundaries between social and biological sciences the volume stresses the importance of a unified understanding of both in order to grasp past and current demographic patterns Demographic traits and traits related to demographic outcomes including fertility and mortality rates marriage parental care menopause and cooperative behavior are subject to evolutionary processes Bringing an understanding of evolution into demography therefore incorporates valuable insights into this field just as knowledge of demography is key to understanding evolutionary processes By asking questions about old patterns from a new perspective the volume composed of contributions from established and early career academics demonstrates that a combination of social science research and evolutionary theory offers holistic understandings and approaches that benefit both fields Human Evolutionary Demography introduces an emerging field in an accessible style It is suitable for graduate courses in demography as well as upper level undergraduates Its range of research is sure to be of interest to academics working on demographic topics anthropologists sociologists demographers natural scientists working on evolutionary processes and disciplines which cross cut natural and social science such as evolutionary psychology human behavioral ecology cultural evolution and evolutionary medicine As an accessible introduction it should interest readers whether or not they are currently familiar with human evolutionary demography

Archaeology of Domestic Landscapes of the Enslaved in the Caribbean James A. Delle, Elizabeth C. Clay, 2022-08-02 While previous research on household archaeology in the colonial Caribbean has drawn heavily on artifact analysis this volume provides the first in depth examination of the architecture of slave housing during this period It examines the considerations that went into constructing and inhabiting living spaces for the enslaved and reveals the diversity of people and practices in these settings Contributors present case studies using written descriptions period illustrations and standing architecture in addition to archaeological evidence to illustrate the wide variety of built environments for enslaved populations in places including Jamaica the Bahamas and the islands of the Lesser Antilles They investigate how the enslaved defined their social positions and identities through house yard and garden space they explore what daily life was like for slaves on military compounds they compare the spatial arrangements of slave villages on plantations based on type of labor and they show how the style of traditional laborer houses became a form of vernacular architecture still in use today This volume expands our understanding of the wide range of enslaved experiences across British French Dutch and Danish colonies Contributors Elizabeth C Clay James A Delle Todd M Ahlman Marco Meniketti Kenneth Kelly Hayden Bassett James A Delle Kristen R Fellows Allan D Meyers Elizabeth C Clay Alicia Odewale Meredith D Hardy Zachary J M Beier Mark W Hauser A volume in the Florida Museum of Natural History Ripley P Bullen Series Publication of the paperback edition made possible by a Sustaining the Humanities through the American Rescue Plan grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities

Micro-geographies of the Western City, c.1750-1900 Alida Clemente, Dag Lindström, Jon Stobart, 2020-12-29 This book examines the overlapping spaces in modern Western cities to explore the small scale processes that shaped these cities between c 1750 and 1900 It highlights the ways in which time and space matter framing individual actions and practices and their impact on larger urban processes It draws on the original and detailed studies of cities in Europe and North America through a micro geographical approach to unravel urban practices experiences and representations at three different scales the dwelling the street and the neighbourhood Part I explores the changing spatiality of housing examining the complex and contingent relationship between public and private and commercial and domestic as well as the relationship between representations and lived experiences Part II delves into the street as a thoroughfare connecting the city but also as a site of contestation over the control and character of urban spaces Part III draws attention to the neighbourhood as a residential grouping and as a series of spaces connecting flows of people integrating the urban space Drawing on a range of methodologies from space syntax and axial analysis to detailed descriptions of individual buildings this book blends spatial theory and ideas of place with micro history With its fresh perspectives on the Western city created through the built environment and the everyday actions of city dwellers the book will interest historical geographers urban historians and architects involved in planning of cities across Europe and North America The Far Northeast Kenneth R. Holyoke, M. Gabriel Hrynck, 2022-03-22 The Far Northeast 3000 BP to Contact is the first volume to synthesize archaeological research from across Atlantic Canada and northern New England for the period spanning from 3000 years ago to European contact Recently notions of the Woodland period in the broader Northeast have drawn scrutiny from experts due to increasing awareness that its hallmarks such as horticulture village formation mortuary ceremonialism and the advent of various technologies appear to be less synchronous than once thought By paying particular attention to the Far Northeast and its unique yet sometimes marginal position in Woodland discourse this work offers a much needed in depth look at one of the best documented cases of hunter gatherer persistence and adaptation at the eve of European contact Penned by academic government and cultural resource management archaeologists the seventeen chapters in The Far Northeast 3000 BP to Contact draw on decades of research in considering this period both in terms of variability within the region and integration with broader cultural patterns in the Northeast and beyond
