A Public Faith Evangelicals And Civic Engagement Ethics And Public Policy Center:

A Public Faith Michael Cromartie, 2003 The essays in this volume take another look at the role of evangelicals in American civic life The prominent contributors examine evangelicals beliefs and activity on topics ranging from bioethics to race relations and welfare reform to international human rights Taken together the essays show that contrary to what critics have proclaimed the social commitment of evangelicals extends considerably beyond family related issues and that their activity in the public sphere makes an essential contribution to the public good Co published with the Ethics and Public Policy Center      Toward an Evangelical Public Policy Ronald J. Sider, Diane Knippers, 2005-02 Deepens thinking about biblical and other conceptual foundations for political engagement in order to unify and give consistency to evangelicals involvement in politics      Descendants of William Cromartie and Ruhamah Doane Amanda Cook Gilbert, 2013-10-18 This ambitious work chronicles 250 years of the Cromartie family genealogical history Included in the index of nearly fifty thousand names are the current generations and all of those preceding which trace ancestry to our family patriarch William Cromartie who was born in 1731 in Orkney Scotland and his second wife Ruhamah Doane who was born in 1745 Arriving in America in 1758 William Cromartie settled and developed a plantation on South River a tributary of the Cape Fear near Wilmington North Carolina On April 2 1766 William married Ruhamah Doane a fifth generation descendant of a Mayflower passenger to Plymouth Stephen Hopkins If Cromartie is your last name or that of one of your blood relatives it is almost certain that you can trace your ancestry to one of the thirteen children of William Cromartie his first wife and Ruhamah Doane who became the founding ancestors of our Cromartie family in America William Jr James Thankful Elizabeth Hannah Ruhamah Alexander John Margaret Nancy Mary Catherine Jean Peter Patrick and Ann E Cromartie These four volumes hold an account of the descent of each of these first generation Cromarties in America including personal anecdotes photographs copies of family bibles wills and other historical documents Their pages hold a personal record of our ancestors and where you belong in the Cromartie family tree      Religion, Culture, and International Conflict Michael Cromartie, 2005-03-25 As religiously grounded moral arguments have become ever more influential factors in the national debate particularly reinforced by recent presidential elections and the creation of the faith based initiative office in the White House journalists ignorance about theological convictions has often worked to distort the public discourse on important policy issues Pope John Paul II s pronouncements on stem cell research the constitutional controversies regarding faith based initiatives the emerging participation of Muslims in American life issues like these require political journalists in print and broadcast media to cover religious contexts that many admit they are ill equipped to understand Put differently these news events reflect subtle theological nuances and deep faith commitments that shape the activities of religious believers in the public square Inasmuch as a faith tradition is an active or significant participant in the public arena journalists will need to better understand the theological sources and religious convictions that motivate this political activity The current national discourse has brought faith and its relationship to public policy to the forefront of our daily news Since 1999 the Ethics and Public Policy Center through the generosity of the Pew Charitable Trusts has hosted six conferences for national journalists to help raise the level of their reporting by increasing their understanding of religion religious communities and the religious convictions that inform the political activity of devout believers This book contains the presentations and conversations that grew out of those conferences

Advocating for Justice F. David Bronkema, Robb Davis, Stephen Offutt, Gregg Okesson, Krisanne Vaillancourt Murphy, 2016-06-21 Christians are increasingly interested in justice issues Relief and development work are important but beyond that is a need for advocacy This book shows how transforming systems and structures results in lasting change providing theological rationale and strategies of action for evangelicals passionate about justice Each of the authors contributes both academic expertise and extensive practical experience to help readers debate discuss and discern more fully the call to evangelical advocacy They also guide readers into prayerful faithful and wise processes of advocacy especially in relation to addressing poverty

International Religious Freedom (2010): Annual Report to Congress , Current Issues in U.S. Refugee Protection and Resettlement United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on Africa, Global Human Rights, and International Operations, 2006

Faiths, Public Policy and Civil Society A. Dinham, 2009-03-12 This book uses empirical data and theory to explore the role of faiths as public actors their contribution to welfare services how they help build community cohesion and break it down and what it means for them and for others to be involved in new modes of governance , Christian Scholar's Review , 2004
