Mandarin Chinese Dual Language Immersion Programs Ko-Yin Sung, Hsiao-Mei Tsai, 2019-06-05 This book discusses multiple aspects of Chinese dual language immersion DLI programs with a focus on the controversial Utah model The first part of the book focuses on the parents teachers and school administrators It looks at the perceptions of the three groups toward the Utah model how they build a supportive DLI classroom with an emphasis on teacher teacher and teacher

parent communication and how the teachers position themselves in teaching through their teacher identities The second part of the book emphasizes classroom research and explores teaching and learning strategies corrective feedback and learner uptake and repair translanguaging in authentic teacher student interaction and Chinese character teaching As the first DLI book to include a non alphabetical language Chinese it addresses the need for more research on DLI programs of languages other than Spanish The book will benefit not only Chinese DLI educators and administrators in the US but will also offer some useful suggestions and thoughts to educators and administrators of similar programs worldwide

Intelligibility, Tones and Young Beginner Learners of Mandarin Chinese Robert Neal, 2025-03-12 Two decades ago Mandarin Chinese seemed set to become a mainstream school subject in Anglophone settings Yet current learning outcomes are generally disappointing Is Chinese too difficult for learners at this level Should it be left to the posh kids with pushy parents Set within the context of teaching and learning Chinese at an inner city secondary school in the North of England and adopting a case study research design this book aims to develop research informed insights into the nature of the pronunciation challenges facing beginner learners of Chinese While existing research has shown that producing native like tones is difficult for Anglophone learners the question of how important tones are for intelligibility has been largely ignored Do heavily accented tones actually matter Which specific areas of the learners speech signal mislead their listeners How aware are learners of their own pronunciation errors Teachers of Chinese may not be able to solve entrenched geopolitical tensions but we can lay the foundations for a stronger engagement with China through excellent teaching However before authoritative pedagogical interventions can be made far more understanding is required of not only how adolescent beginners learn Chinese in school settings but also what can be realistically expected of them
