Apprenticeship In Thinking Cognitive Development In Social Context:

Apprenticeship in Thinking Barbara Rogoff, 1990 This interdisciplinary work presents an integration of theory and research on how children develop their thinking as they participate in cultural activity with the guidance and challenge of their caregivers and other companions The author a leading developmental psychologist views development as an apprenticeship in which children engage in the use of intellectual tools in societally structured activities with parents other adults and children The author has gathered evidence from various disciplines cognitive developmental and cultural psychology anthropology infancy studies and communication research furnishing a coherent and broadly based account of cognitive development in its sociocultural context This work examines the mutual roles of the individual and the sociocultural world and the culturally based processes by which children appropriate and extend skill and understanding from their involvement in shared thinking with other people The book is written in a lively and engaging style and is supplemented by photographs and original illustrations by the author

Learning Together Barbara Rogoff, Carolyn Goodman Turkanis, Leslee Bartlett, 2002-09-26 This book advances the theoretical account that Barbara Rogoff presented in her highly acclaimed book Apprenticeship in Thinking Here Rogoff collaborates with two master teachers from an innovative school in Salt Lake City Utah to examine how students parents and teachers learn by being engaged together in a community of learners Building on observations by participants in this school this book reveals how children and adults learn through participation in activities of mutual interest The insights will speak to all those interested in how people learn collaboratively and how schools can improve

Knowing and Remembering in Young Children Robyn Fivush, Judith A. Hudson, 1990-11-30 A 1990 assessment of the cognitive abilities of children and the variables affecting memory

Interpersonal Argumentation in Educational and Professional Contexts Francesco Arcidiacono, Antonio Bova, 2017-07-11 This book provides a comprehensive overview of empirical studies based on various approaches devoted to examining the interpersonal argumentative processes involved in different contexts It also identifies context dependent similarities and differences in the ways in which argumentative interactions are managed by individuals in a range of educational and professional settings How can some forms of negotiation change and debate result from engaging in interpersonal processes during argumentation How do interpersonal dimensions affect the interdependencies between argumentative exchanges and construction of knowledge and skills The book clarifies these open questions by providing a discussion of theoretical and empirical issues at the forefront of research in order to provide a view of how interpersonal argumentation in educational and professional contexts is actually questioned and investigated It offers readers an opportunity to discover the crucial importance of an in depth understanding of the role and functions played by the interpersonal dynamics within argumentative interactions occurring in a wide range of educational and professional contexts
