Big Diehl Comes A Peace:

Big Diehl George Seaton,2015-01-16 Big Diehl struggles against his inner demons to make a home for himself and Joe Tye on the high plains of northwestern Colorado Big Diehl and Joe Tye leave Wyoming with little more than their border collie Jack sharing dreams of making a home together on the high plains of northwestern Colorado Their shared intent is to work hard and establish themselves as good and honest men who only want a fair shake from those they encounter in the small towns and big ranches of this mountain paradise Their hopes for the future become fragile though when not everyone is willing to accept them for who they are So too the inner demons Diehl still carries from the first Gulf War threaten his and Joe s dreams of the peaceful loving place they both wish to embrace the rest of their lives Gift of the Golden Mountain

twenty three autobiographical narratives by successful teachers of global politics and international relations The diverse contributors from a variety of institutional contexts sub disciplines and countries describe their development as teachers articulate mission statements for their teaching and link both to pedagogical practices that exemplify their teaching philosophies Rather than provide specific recipes for authoritative techniques the essays empower readers as creative developers of their own approaches to teaching global politics They demonstrate the multiple ways that instructors have grounded deliberate pedagogical designs in a variety of deeper philosophical commitments and resources are provided to facilitate discussion and collaborative deliberation between groups of readers Editor & Publisher ,1915 The fourth estate

Five Percent Peter Coleman,2011-05-03 One in every twenty difficult conflicts ends up grinding to a halt That s fully 5 percent of not just the diplomatic and political clashes we read about in the newspaper but disputations and arguments from our everyday lives as well. Once we get pulled into these self-perpetuating conflicts it is nearly impossible to escape. The 5 percent rule us. So what can we do when we find ourselves ensnared? According to Dr Peter T Coleman the solution is in seeing our conflict anew. Applying lessons from complexity theory to examples from both American domestic politics and international diplomacy from abortion debates to the enmity between Israelis and Palestinians Coleman provides innovative new strategies for dealing with intractable disputes. A timely paradigm shifting look at conflict. The Five Percent is an invaluable guide to preventing even the most fractious negotiations from foundering.

Failed Imagination? Andrew Williams, 2013-01-18. The main purpose of this book is to explain how mainly American but also British and other Western policy makers have planned and largely managed to create an international order in their own image, the so-called New World Order. It shows how this seismic shift in international relations has developed through the major global wars of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. It uses a wide variety of historical archival material to give the background to the current and historical American obsession with creating the world order, one that both reflects the American national interest but also can be said to have established the major security, economic, organisational, and normative pillars of our epoch. In addition, it provides excellent background reading for the current debate about American foreign policy and the origins of neo-conservatism in international relations. This edition updates a very successful first edition of the title with additional material to take into account changes in the global order since 2001 and the beginning of the War on Terror.

Failed Imagination? Andrew J. Williams, 1998. Francisco Gomez de Sandoval, Duke of Lerma, 1553-1625 is the last major unknown statesman in modern European history. Patrick Williams brings him dramatically to life and challenges the assumptions that historians have made about him and about Spanish history at a time of profound crisis, inviting a re-evaluation of the phenomenon of government by favourites in this seminal period of European history. Lerma served Philip III as his favourite and first minister between 1598 and 1618. His power dazzled contemporaries; one petitioner telling Philip that he had come to see him because I could not get an appointment with the Duke of Lerma. Within a decade of assuming office Lerma had raised his family from humiliating poverty to great riches and was the greatest patron of the arts in Europe. His use of power provoked intense debate about the nature of corruption in government. Yet Lerma remained deeply ambivalent about his position. Determined to follow family tradition and retire into religious life to secure the salvation of his soul, he secured a cardinalate in 1617, ending his life as a prince of the Church.
