The background of the cover is black. It features abstract, glowing green and yellow-green structures that resemble biological forms. On the right side, there is a dense, tangled mass of fine, thread-like structures, possibly representing a microorganism or a complex molecular structure. To the left and extending from the bottom, there are several long, thin, blade-like structures that fan out, resembling a plant or a microscopic organism. The overall effect is one of vibrant, organic complexity against a dark void.
