The Mind's Eye Oliver Sacks, 2010-10-26 NATIONAL

BESTSELLER From the poet laureate of medicine The New York Times and the author of the classic The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat comes a fascinating exploration of the remarkable unpredictable ways that our brains cope with the loss of sight by finding rich new forms of perception Elaborate and gorgeously detailed Again and again Sacks invites readers to imagine their way into minds unlike their own encouraging a radical form of empathy Los Angeles Times With compassion and insight Dr Oliver Sacks again illuminates the mysteries of the brain by introducing us to some remarkable characters including Pat who remains a vivacious communicator despite the stroke that deprives her of speech and Howard a novelist who loses the ability to read Sacks investigates those who can see perfectly well but are unable to recognize faces even those of their own children He describes totally blind people who navigate by touch and smell and others who ironically become hyper visual Finally he recounts his own battle with an eye tumor and the strange visual symptoms it caused As he has done in classics like The Man Who Mistook his Wife for a Hat and Awakenings Dr Sacks shows us that medicine is both an art and a science and that our ability to imagine what it is to see with another person's mind is what makes us truly human Clinical Ocular Prosthetics Keith R. Pine, Brian H. Sloan, Robert J. Jacobs, 2015-07-10 This is the first textbook to offer a comprehensive account of ocular prosthetics and the evidence used to underpin and support this field of healthcare It does so by bringing together information from ophthalmology prosthetic eye and contact lens literature and from experts actively engaged in these fields The book describes the psychological anatomical and physiological aspects of eye loss as well as surgical procedures for removing the eye patient evaluation constructing prosthetic eyes including prosthetic and surgical techniques for dealing with socket complications the socket's response to prosthetic eyes prosthetic eye maintenance and the history of prosthetic eyes Though primarily intended for prosthetists ophthalmologists ophthalmic nurses optometrists and students in the fields of ocular medicine maxillofacial medicine and anaplastology the book also offers a useful resource for other health workers and family members who care for prosthetic eye patients and for those patients seeking a deeper understanding of the issues affecting them than they can find elsewhere The Train in the Night Nick

Coleman, 2013-09-01 For thirty years Nick Coleman immersed himself in music from rock n roll to pro rock jazz to classical until one morning as he sat up in bed his right ear went stone deaf His left ear as though to compensate started to make horrific noises like the inside of an old fridge hooked up to a half blown amplifier The Train in the Night explores the world in which a music critic must cope with a world that has abruptly lost its most important element sound But Coleman opens more than his struggle he delves back into his past to examine how music defined his identity how that identity must be reshaped by its loss and how at times the memory of the music can be just as powerful as the music itself
