Accounting records for Allegheny Corporation yield the following data for the year ended June 30, 2018 (assume sales returns arenon-existent):

Exhibit 1

|                                                                         |           |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------|
| Inventory, June 30, 2017 .....                                          | $ 11,000 |
| Purchases of inventory (on account) .....                               | 47,000    |
| Sales of inventory = 79% on account; 21% for cash (cost $57,000) ..... | 83,000    |
| Inventory, June 30, 2018 .....                                          | 1,000     |

Question 1a: Journalize Allegheny's inventory transactions for the year under the perpetual system. The first transaction is the purchase of inventory. Record the entry.

Answer 1a:

| Journal Entry |                  |        |        |  |
|---------------|------------------|--------|--------|--|
| Date          | Accounts         | Debit  | Credit |  |
| Jun 30        | Inventory        | 47,000 |        |  |
|               | Accounts Payable |        | 47,000 |  |

Explanation 1a: This exercise is not concerned with the costing method of inventory; the amounts are given. What is important is that you know how to record the inventory transactions. The first transaction is the purchase of inventory on account. "On account" indicates that the monetary transaction will come later. The asset account is increased as is the liability account. Record the first transaction of the purchase of inventory on account. (Record debits first, then credits. Exclude explanations from any journal entries.)

Question 1b: The next transaction is the sale of inventory. Do not yet record the cost related to the sale. We do this in the next journal entry.

Answer 1b:

| Journal Entry |                     |        |        |  |
|---------------|---------------------|--------|--------|--|
| Date          | Accounts            | Debit  | Credit |  |
| Jun 30        | Accounts Receivable | 65,570 |        |  |
|               | Cash                | 17,430 |        |  |
|               | Sales Revenue       |        | 83,000 |  |

Explanation 1b: When inventory is sold it generates a revenue transaction. Recall that revenue and expense accounts are temporary accounts for holding specific transactions for an accounting period. The asset accounts are increased for the cash received and the portion on account. The revenue account is also increased by the total of the transaction.

Question 1c: The last entry is recording the cost of inventory. Record the entry.

Answer 1c:

| Journal Entry |                    |        |        |  |
|---------------|--------------------|--------|--------|--|
| Date          | Accounts           | Debit  | Credit |  |
| Jun 30        | Cost of Goods Sold | 57,000 |        |  |
|               | Inventory          |        | 57,000 |  |

Explanation 1c: As part of the revenue entry, the cost of inventory sold needs to be identified and recorded. This entry decreases the asset account and increases the temporary account for holding cost.
