

ASSETS

Assets are resources owned by a business that have economic value. They are the result of investments made by the business or its owners. Assets are classified into two main categories: Current Assets and Non-Current Assets.

Current Assets are assets that are expected to be converted into cash or sold within one year. Examples include cash, accounts receivable, inventory, and prepaid expenses.

Non-Current Assets are assets that are not expected to be converted into cash or sold within one year. Examples include property, plant, and equipment, intangible assets, and investments.

LIABILITIES

Liabilities are obligations or debts that a business owes to other parties. They are the result of borrowing money or credit from others. Liabilities are classified into two main categories: Current Liabilities and Non-Current Liabilities.

Current Liabilities are liabilities that are expected to be paid or settled within one year. Examples include accounts payable, short-term debt, and accrued liabilities.

Non-Current Liabilities are liabilities that are not expected to be paid or settled within one year. Examples include long-term debt, pension liabilities, and deferred tax liabilities.

CONTRIBUTED CAPITAL

Contributed Capital represents the amount of capital that has been contributed by the owners of the business. It is also known as Equity or Share Capital. It is divided into two main categories: Common Stock and Preferred Stock.

Common Stock represents the ownership interest in the business. It is the most common type of equity and is typically sold in shares. Common stockholders have the right to vote on major decisions of the business.

Preferred Stock represents a type of equity that has certain preferences over common stock. Preferred stockholders typically receive a fixed dividend and have priority in the event of liquidation.

RETAINED EARNINGS

Retained Earnings represent the portion of a company's profits that are retained within the company rather than being paid out as dividends to shareholders. They are a key component of a company's equity and are used to fund the company's operations and growth.

Retained earnings are calculated as follows: Retained Earnings = Accumulated Profits - Dividends or Drawings.

EQUITY

Equity is the total value of the ownership interest in a business. It is the sum of all assets minus all liabilities. Equity is divided into two main categories: Contributed Capital and Retained Earnings.

Contributed Capital represents the amount of capital that has been contributed by the owners of the business. It is also known as Equity or Share Capital.

Retained Earnings represent the portion of a company's profits that are retained within the company rather than being paid out as dividends to shareholders.
