

Unit 3-

Chapter Three: North America in the Atlantic World (1640-1720)

- 1) Discuss developments in New England between 1640 and 1720, and explain their impact on colonial society.

In New England, the English Civil War slowed its development in the 1640s. After the war ended, immigration resumed after it was stopped in 1642, and the colonies expanded. Farms developed into large plantations and New England's population grew naturally, tripling to 7,000 citizens, so there was also less available land. New England also had trials of witches, but few were convicted, which caused suspicion.

- 2) Explain the reasons behind the new wave of English colonies founded after 1660, and identify the major political, social, and economic characteristics of those colonies.

There was a new wave of English colonies because the Stuarts provided land in North America to those who had supported him during the Civil War and this land was transformed into the colonies, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, and South Carolina, also known as the Restoration Colonies. All of this land was proprietorships which meant that men held title to the soil and controlled the government. Regarding social life, places such as New York were very diverse with slaves, indigenous people, and other Europeans. New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania all had rapidly growing populations. On an economic scale, Pennsylvania had fertile lands but the Carolinas were not able to grow tropical plants so instead, corn and livestock was raised for profit.

- 3) Discuss the development of colonial political structures from 1640 to 1720.

In New York, English representatives moved cautiously to establish English rule because of the diversity. James, the Duke of York, first allowed the Dutch to keep their local government and an autocratic governor ruled New York before 1683. In New Jersey, proprietors made a representative assembly without permission from the Crown. In New England, a council was elected or appointed and each colony had a judiciary and well-established political systems. There were also local political institutions to govern towns.

- 4) Examine the relations between white Europeans and North American Indians between 1640 and 1720.

While some Europeans such as Penn attempted to treat Native Americans fairly, others clashed with the natives over land disputes. The Iroquois also waged wars in order to attain captives and to dominate the fur trade. When the Iroquois dominance grew, the French attacked their villages. In 1675, the Algonquian people joined King Philip's forces to attack settlements in the North Connecticut River Valley and suffered after they fought against the Europeans and one another.
