collaborated with some of the greatest ballet directors choreographers designers and dancers of his time including Diaghilev Ida Rubinstein Benois and Nijinsky In this book the first study dedicated to Ravel's ballets Deborah Mawer explores these relationships and argues that ballet music should not be regarded in isolation from its associated arts Indeed Ravel's views on ballet and other stage works privilege a synthesized aesthetic The first chapter establishes a historical and critical context for Ravel's scores engaging en route with multimedia theory Six main ballets from Daphnis et Chloë through to Bol are considered holistically alongside themes such as childhood fantasy waltzing and neoclassicism Each work is examined in terms of its evolution premiere critical reception and reinterpretation through to the present new findings result from primary source research undertaken especially in Paris The final chapter discusses the reasons for Ravel's collaborations and the strengths and weaknesses of his interpersonal relations Mawer emphasizes the importance of the performative dimension in realizing Ravel's achievement and proposes that the composer's large scale oeuvre can in a sense be viewed as a balletic undertaking In so doing this book adds significantly to current research interest in artistic production and interplay in early twentieth century Paris

Ruth Page Joellen A. Meglin, 2022-03-04 In Ruth Page The Woman in the Work the Chicago ballerina emerges as a highly original choreographer who in her art sought the iconoclastic as she transgressed boundaries of genre gender race class and sexuality In the process of discovering the woman in the work the book also offers encounters with an international cast of dancers composers visual artists and companies

Scenographic Imagination Darwin Reid Payne, 1993 In this enlarged and thoroughly revised third edition of his widely used text Darwin Reid Payne explores the principles and philosophies that shape the visual elements of theatre Payne sets out to discover who scenographers are and to define their responsibilities He sees scenographers as not merely craftspersons but artists with a special vision that spans all the arts Such artists are in a position to extend and amplify underlying meanings of the production The proper goal of beginning scenographers according to Payne is one day to be able to approach the job as artists in full command of their craft Payne seeks to instill in beginning scenographers a basic core of knowledge an understanding of theatre history and the development of drama a knowledge of art history and an understanding of periods and styles of architecture painting sculpture furnishings and costume and a familiarity with the principles techniques and materials of pictorial and three dimensional design This new edition contains 248 illustrations 38

more than the second edition Payne's goal certainly is to teach students what to do and how to do it equally important however is Payne's view that scenographers must know why To Payne Scenography is an art whose scope is nothing less than the whole world outside the theatre Scenographers must read not only in their own field but in others as well Payne has incorporated into his text many suggestions for outside readings quoting passages and even entire chapters from important works Stressing research Payne argues that without knowledge of the literature of their own and related arts scenographers cannot grow And that is the emphasis of this book to present aspiring scenographers with an approach and a set of concepts that will enable them to grow Toward that end Payne establishes five priorities the first of which is to develop in students what he calls time vision or the ability to see the historical past as a living place with living inhabitants The second priority is to bring about an awareness that allows students to see beneath the surface of objects and events Third students must be helped to recognize and appreciate the difference between the concept of space as it exists outside the theatre and the concept of space as it is used within the theatre The fourth priority is to ingrain in students an understanding of the importance of imagery to the scenographer and the final priority is to teach those technical skills necessary to carry out the concepts of the scenographer
