Felicity Huntingford, Malcolm Jobling, Sunil Kadri, 2012-02-13 Modern aquaculture is faced with a number of challenges including public concern about environmental impacts and the welfare of farmed fish. A fundamental understanding of fish biology is central to finding ways to meet these challenges and is also essential for maintaining the industry's sustainability. Furthermore, the behaviour of fish under culture situations has long been ignored despite heavy commercial losses that can result from fish stressed and hence disease prone due to bad husbandry techniques. This important book summarises the current understanding of the behavioural biology of farmed species and illustrates how this can be applied to improve aquaculture practice. Informative and engaging, Aquaculture Behavior brings the reader up to date with major issues pertaining to aquaculture. Everyone from fish farmers to upper level students will find this book a valuable and practical resource. Libraries in universities and research establishments where animal behavior, aquaculture, veterinary and biological sciences are studied and taught should have copies of this work on their shelves. Aquaculture Training Manual, 1990

The manual is based on the practical experiences of the authors on the artificial reproduction and pond rearing of the African catfish Clarias gariepinus within FAO field projects in the Central African Republic, the Republic of the Congo, Kenya and Nigeria. The manual is divided into five major sections dealing with: 1. general biology including natural feeding habits and reproduction; 2. artificial reproduction including induced propagation without and through hormone injection; 3. fry nursing in earthen ponds including pond preparation, fertilization, feeding and management; 4. monoculture including feeding methods; and 5. polyculture with Tilapia. In addition, information is provided concerning the economics of different fingerling and grow out farming practices in Africa and concerning diseases and hybridization. Proceedings of a Workshop on the Development of a Genetic Improvement Program for African Catfish *Clarias Gariepinus Raoul W.
