African American Literature Beyond Race An Alternative Reader:

African American Literature Beyond Race Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2006-04 An anthology of 16 stories and excerpts from novels by African American writers includes critical essays on each author by a variety of scholars Deans and Truants Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2013-03-01 For a work to be considered African American literature does it need to focus on black characters or political themes Must it represent these within a specific stylistic range Or is it enough for the author to be identified as African American In Deans and Truants Gene Andrew Jarrett traces the shifting definitions of African American literature and the authors who wrote beyond those boundaries at the cost of critical dismissal and at times obscurity From the late nineteenth century to the end of the twentieth de facto deans critics and authors as different as William Howells Alain Locke Richard Wright and Amiri Baraka prescribed the shifting parameters of realism and racial subject matter appropriate to authentic African American literature while truant authors such as Paul Laurence Dunbar George S Schuyler Frank Yerby and Toni Morrison perhaps the most celebrated African American author of the twentieth century wrote literature anomalous to those standards Jarrett explores the issues at stake when Howells the Dean of American Letters argues in 1896 that only Dunbar's entirely black verse written in dialect would succeed Three decades later Locke the cultural arbiter of the Harlem Renaissance stands in contrast to Schuyler a journalist and novelist who questions the existence of a peculiarly black or New Negro art Next Wright's 1937 blueprint for African American writing sets the terms of the Chicago Renaissance but Yerby's version of historical romance approaches race and realism in alternative literary ways Finally Deans and Truants measures the gravitational pull of the late 1960s Black Aesthetic in Baraka's editorial silence on Toni Morrison's first and only short story Recitatif Drawing from a wealth of biographical historical and literary sources Deans and Truants describes the changing notions of race politics and gender that framed and were framed by the authors and critics of African American culture for more than a century African American Literature Beyond Race Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2006-04-01 Fiction by Toni Morrison James Baldwin Octavia E Butler and others that isn't focused on race with original introductions by leading scholars It is widely accepted that the canon of African American literature has racial realism at its core African American protagonists social settings cultural symbols and racial political discourse As a result writings that are not preoccupied with race have long been invisible unpublished out of print absent from libraries rarely discussed among scholars and omitted from anthologies However some of our most celebrated African American authors from Zora Neale Hurston and Richard Wright to James Baldwin and Toni Morrison have resisted this canonical rule even at the cost of critical dismissal and commercial failure African American Literature Beyond Race revives this remarkable literary corpus presenting sixteen short stories novelettes and excerpts of novels from the postbellum nineteenth century to the late twentieth century that demonstrate this act of literary defiance Each selection is paired with an original introduction by one of today's leading scholars of African American literature By casting African Americans in minor roles and marking the protagonists as racially white neutral or ambiguous these works of fiction explore the thematic complexities of human identity relations and culture At the same time they force us to confront the basic question What is African American literature Includes fiction by James Baldwin Octavia E Butler Samuel R Delany Paul Laurence Dunbar Frances Ellen Watkins Harper Chester B Himes Zora Neale Hurston Nella Larsen Toni Morrison Ann Petry Wallace Thurman Jean Toomer Frank J Webb Richard Wright and Frank Yerby Critical Introductions by Hazel V Carby John Charles Gerald Early Hazel Arnett Ervin Matthew Guterl Mae G Henderson George B Hutchinson Gene Jarrett Carla L Peterson Amritjit Singh Werner Sollors and Jeffrey Allen Tucker The essays are succinct interesting and informative Journal of African American Studies

Representing the Race Gene Andrew Jarrett, 2011-08-08 The political value of African American literature has long been a topic of great debate among American writers both black and white from Thomas Jefferson to Barack Obama In his compelling new book Representing the Race Gene Andrew Jarrett traces the genealogy of this topic in order to develop an innovative political history of African American literature Jarrett examines texts of every sort pamphlets autobiographies cultural criticism poems short stories and novels to parse the myths of authenticity popular culture nationalism and militancy that have come to define African American political activism in recent decades He argues that unless we show the diverse and complex ways that African American literature has transformed society political myths will continue to limit our understanding of this intellectual tradition Cultural forums ranging from the printing press schools and conventions to parlors railroad cars and courtrooms provide the backdrop to this African American literary history while the foreground is replete with compelling stories from the debate over racial genius in early American history and the intellectual culture of racial politics after slavery to the tension between copyright law and free speech in contemporary African American culture to the political audacity of Barack Obama s creative writing Erudite yet accessible Representing the Race is a bold explanation of what s at stake in continuing to politicize African American literature in the new millennium

Contemporary African American Literature Lovalerie King, Shirley Moody-Turner, 2021-12-22 Essays exploring contemporary black fiction and examining important issues in current African American literary studies In this volume Lovalerie King and Shirley Moody Turner have compiled a collection of essays that offer access to some of the most innovative contemporary black fiction while addressing important issues in current African American literary studies Distinguished scholars Houston Baker Trudier Harris Darryl Dickson Carr and Maryemma Graham join writers and younger scholars to explore the work of Toni Morrison Edward P Jones Trey Ellis Paul Beatty Mat Johnson Kyle Baker Danzy Senna Nikki Turner and many others The collection is bracketed by a foreword by novelist and graphic artist Mat Johnson one of the most exciting and innovative contemporary African American writers and an afterword by Alice Randall author of the controversial parody The Wind Done Gone Together King and Moody Turner make the case that diversity innovation and canon expansion are essential to maintaining the vitality of African American literary studies A compelling collection of essays on the ongoing relevance of African American literature to our collective understanding of American history society and culture Featuring a wide array of writers from all corners of the literary academy the book will have national appeal and offer strategies for teaching African American literature in colleges and universities across the country Gene Jarrett Boston University This book describes a fruitful tension that brings scholars of major reputation together with newly emerging critics to explore the full range of literary activities that have flourished in the post Civil Rights era Notable are such popular influences as hip hop music and Oprah Winfrey s Book Club American Literary Scholarship 2013 Theory of Racelessness

Sheena Michele Mason,2022-05-27 This book presents a skeptical eliminativist philosophy of race and the theory of racelessness a methodological and pedagogical framework for analyzing race and racism It explores the history of skeptical eliminativism and constructionist eliminativism within the history of African American philosophy and literary studies and its consistent connection with movements for civil rights Sheena M Mason considers how current anti racist efforts reflect naturalist conservationist and constructionist reconstructionist philosophies of race that prevent more people from fully confronting the problem of racism not race thereby enabling racism to persist She then offers a three part solution for how scholars and people aspiring toward anti racism can avoid unintentionally upholding racism using literary studies as a case study to show how race often translates into racism itself The theory of racelessness helps more people undo racism by undoing the belief in race A Companion to African American Literature Gene Andrew Jarrett,2013-02-25 Through a series of essays that explore the forms themes genres historical contexts major authors and latest critical approaches A

Companion to African American Literature presents a comprehensive chronological overview of African American literature from the eighteenth century to the modern day Examines African American literature from its earliest origins through the rise of antislavery literature in the decades leading into the Civil War to the modern development of contemporary African American cultural media literary aesthetics and political ideologies Addresses the latest critical and scholarly approaches to African American literature Features essays by leading established literary scholars as well as newer voices Publishing
