CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES ON NEOLIBERAL GLOBALIZATION, DEVELOPMENT AND EDUCATION IN AFRICA AND ASIA Dip Kapoor, 2011-10-30 This interdisciplinary collection of readings pertaining to schooling higher education adult and community development education indigenous education and social movement learning in the African and Asian regions is a contribution to anti critical colonial scholarship in comparative international education and the sociology of education The political and analytical standpoint that weaves through the text considers the imbrications of the colonial and imperial projects currently referenced as neoliberal globalization globalization of capitalism and development compulsory Eurocentric modernization and their attendant and mutual implications for education social reproduction and hegemony Counter anti hegemonic and indigenous education projects and pre existing alternatives are registered in the critique At last a remarkable collection of essays written by a range of scholars mostly originating from Asia and Africa demonstrating with admirable clarity how policies and practices of neo liberal globalization in those regions cannot be adequately understood without appreciating how they are a product of the exploitative histories of colonialism Written with conceptual sophistication personal knowledge and deep conviction these essays represent a major scholarly intervention in contemporary debates about globalization and education Fazal Rizvi Professor Graduate School of Education University of Melbourne Australia Professor Emeritus University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign USA This intriguing and provocative volume deals with crucial intersections between global forces and national initiatives with respect to the most crucial agency of transformation education The cumulative efforts of this assembly of committed intellectuals reveal the forces that retard progress in the two largest continents and offers compelling suggestions on how to redefine the boundaries of power the contents of knowledge and the use of critical thinking to create alternative spaces of autonomy freedom liberation and empowerment Toyin Falola University Distinguished Professor Frances Higginbotham Nalle Centennial Professor University of Texas at Austin This volume well crafted by Dip Kapoor one of the finest scholars in the postcolonial education field brings together writers who examine processes of learning and education more broadly within the context of the dominant discourses of globalisation and development They unveil the underlying neocolonial neoliberal tenets of these processes strongly echoing what Hardt and Negri would call Empire In short another important reading resource provided by Dip Kapoor and colleagues Peter Mayo Professor Chair Educational Studies University of Malta Finally a much awaited intervention on neoliberal globalization from Asian and African perspectives This book makes a compelling case for a historically grounded regionally specific analysis of globalization The contributions are extraordinary for their textured and embedded analysis of neoliberal globalization One of those rare books that deserve to be read across the social sciences Sangeeta Kamat Associate Professor International Education University of Massachusetts Amherst USA

Neoliberal Globalisation and Resistance from Below Jasper Abembia Ayelazuno, 2018-08-15 As bearers of their own emancipation the political agency of the subaltern classes is a vexed question a time honoured one at that Why do the subalterns endure injustices without revolting most of the time but revolt sometimes against some injustices The euphoria of globalisation from below this book argues skirts responsibility of addressing this question by presuming a groundswell of resistance across the world against neoliberal globalisation In contrast to this oeuvre Neoliberal Globalisation and Resistance from Below engages this question squarely by using the socio historical approach to explain why the subalterns resist neoliberal globalisation in Bolivia and not in Ghana The author urges scholars of critical political economy to pay greater attention to why the subalterns resist rather than how they resist or what the ideal end of their resistance should be Such refocusing of the research and political lens will yield a more realistic picture of what is politically possible in the social context of peripheral capitalism regarding an anti capitalist revolution The author further argues that this refocusing will cure many of the romantic anti capitalist claims and banal wishful thinking of a socialist revolution in peripheral capitalist regions such as Latin America The Middle East and North Africa MENA and Sub Saharan Africa Neoliberal Globalisation and Resistance from Below will be of interest to students and scholars of African politics neoliberalism globalisation political economy and subaltern politics

Neoliberal Africa Professor Graham Harrison, 2013-04-04 Neoliberalism has shaped African development for nearly thirty years As such it is not an economic shock or a structural adjustment but rather a historic shift in Africa's development politics and policy This book explores the ways in which African countries have experienced the neoliberal project highlighting how this project has gone beyond economic liberalisation and towards a bolder social transformation As an ideology neoliberalism projects an end point not simply of a market economy but of a market society After thirty years of projects aid disbursement technical assistance and conditionality this book maps out the extent to which African states have cleaved to neoliberal directives It suggests that neoliberal progress in Africa is notably limited in spite of the resources behind it and the lack of alternatives to it

Art Cinema and Neoliberalism Alex

Lykidis, 2021-03-18 Art Cinema and Neoliberalism surveys cinematic responses to neoliberalism across four continents. One of the first in depth studies of its kind, this book provides an imaginative reassessment of art cinema in the new millennium by showing how the exigencies of contemporary capitalism are exerting pressure on art cinema conventions. Through a careful examination of neoliberal thought and practice, the book explores the wide ranging effects of neoliberalism on various sectors of society and on the evolution of film language. Alex Lykidis evaluates the relevance of art cinema style to explanations of the neoliberal order and uses a case study approach to analyze the films of acclaimed directors such as Asghar Farhadi, Yorgos Lanthimos and Lucrecia Martel in relation to the social, political and cultural characteristics of neoliberalism. By connecting the aesthetics of art cinema to current social antagonisms, Lykidis positions class as a central concern in our understanding of the polarized dynamics of late capitalism and the escalating provocations of today's film auteurs. Human Rights in Africa

Eunice N. Sahle, 2019-02-01 This edited collection explores key human rights themes and situates them in the context of developments on the African continent. It examines critical debates in human rights, bringing together conceptually and empirically rich contributions from leading thinkers in human rights and African studies. Drawing on scholarly insights from the fields of constitutional law, human rights development, feminist studies, public health and media studies, the volume contributes to scholarly debates on constitutionalism, the right to water, securitization of development, environmental and transitional justice, sexual rights, conflict and gender based violence, the right to development and China's deepening role in Africa. Consequently, it makes an important scholarly intervention on timely issues pertaining to the African continent and beyond.

The Handbook of Civil Society in Africa Ebenezer Obadare, 2013-09-21 This volume brings together the most up to date analyses of civil society in Africa from the best scholars and researchers working on the subject. Being the first of its kind, it casts a panoramic look at the African continent, drawing out persisting if often under communicated variations in regional discourses. In a majority of notionally global studies, Africa has received marginal attention, a marginality often highlighted by the usual token chapter. Filling a critical hiatus, the Handbook of Civil Society in Africa takes African developments and African perspectives very seriously and worthy of academic interrogation in their own right. It offers a critical, clear sighted perspective on civil society in Africa and positions African discourses within the framework of important regional and global debates. It promises to be an invaluable reference work for researchers and practitioners working in the fields of civil society, nonprofit studies, development studies, volunteerism, civic service and African studies. Endorsements: This volume signposts a critical turning point in the renewed engagement with the theory and practice of civil society in Africa. Moving from traditional concerns with disquisitions on the appropriateness and possibility of the existence and vibrancy of the idea of civil society on the continent, the volume approaches the forms, contents and features of the actually existing civil society in Africa from thematic, regional and national angles. It demonstrates clearly the extent to which core intellectual work on civil society in Africa has largely moved from concerns with cultural reductionism to a nuanced examination of the complexities of formal non formal organizational non organizational traditional newer usual unusual engagements detailing the extent to which over time civil society as a concept has been indigenized appropriated and adapted in the terrains of politics society economy culture and new technologies on the continent In all this the book accomplishes the near impossible Without sacrificing the vigour rigor and freshness of the often unpredictable fruits of up to date research into regional and national differences that crop up in the documentation of Africa s multiple realities and discourses the volume weaves together a rich tapestry of the historical theoretical and practical dimensions of an expanding civil society sector and accompanying growth in popular discourse advocacy and academic literature in such a diverse continent as Africa into a meaningful whole of insightful themes Written and edited by a very distinguished cross continental and multi disciplinary collection of researchers research students practitioners and activists the volume provides cutting edge evidence and makes a definitive case for a new lease of life for civil society research in Africa Adigun Agbaje Professor of Political Science University of Ibadan Nigeria Throughout Africa forms of civic engagement and political participation have seen dynamic change in recent decades yet conceptions of civil society have rarely accounted for this evolution This volume is an essential source of new thinking about political association and collective action in Africa The authors offer a wealth of analysis on changing organizations and social movements new forms of interaction and communication emerging strategies and issues diverse social foundations and the theoretical implications of a shifting associational landscape The contributors provide an invaluable addition to the comparative literature on political change democratic development and social movements in Africa Peter Lewis Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced international Studies

World Orders, Development and Transformation E. Sahle, 2010-05-21 The book examines how hegemonic development ideas and practices emerged in the context of the changing world order post 1945 and how this transformation was characterized by neoliberalism and securitization of development and security Sahle also explores the rise of China and the start of Obama s presidency
