A Text Book of the History of Architecture Seventh Edition revised By A D F Alfred Dwight Foster Hamlin

PREFACE

The aim of this work has been to sketch the various periods and styles of architecture with the broadest possible strokes and to mention with such brief characterization as seemed permissible or necessary the most important works of each period or style. Extreme condensation in presenting the leading facts of architectural history has been necessary and much that would rightly claim place in a larger work has been omitted here. The danger was felt to be rather in the direction of too much detail than of too little. While the book is intended primarily to meet the special requirements of the college student those of the general reader have not been lost sight of. The majority of the technical terms used are defined or explained in the context and the small remainder in a glossary at the end of the work. Extended criticism and minute description were out of the question and discussion of controverted points has been in consequence as far as possible avoided. We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection. Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public. The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades. The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works. To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff. Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work. We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience.

Unlike some other reproductions of classic texts 1 We have not used OCR (Optical Character Recognition) as this leads to bad quality books with introduced typos 2 In books where there are images such as portraits maps sketches etc We have endeavoured to keep the quality of these images so they represent accurately the original artefact. Although occasionally there may be certain imperfections with these old texts we feel they deserve to be made available for future generations to enjoy.
