Business And Government In Industrializing Asia:

Business and Government in Industrializing Asia Andrew J. MacIntyre, 1994 Contributes to the task of specifying the ways in which political arrangements or more broadly institutions constrain policy and thus performance by focusing on the interaction between business and government in a range of industrialized and industrializing countries in Northeast and Southeast Asia The volume comprises ten original essays by specialists with theoretical and country specific expertise from around Asia Australia and the US For enhanced comparability the focus is primarily on six countries with established market based economic systems South Korea Taiwan Thailand Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines Acidic paper Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR

Governments and Markets in East Asia Jungug Choi, 2007-01-24 The Asian economic crisis of 1997 to 1998 had a dramatic impact on the region s economies and its politics This book is a comparative study of five countries experiences making important contributions to key theoretical debates on the relationship between economic performance and practical stability

Business-government Relations in Industrialising East Asia Andrew J. MacIntyre, 1990

Law and Development in East and South-East Asia Christoph Antons, 2005-10-05 During the 1980s and 1990s Asian developmental states attracted much attention in political science and economics literature but the role of law in the economic development was neglected It was only after the Asian crisis of 1997 that many analysts began to focus on a lack of regulation and transparency as a major factor triggering the crisis The crucial questions now are how successful the current reforms will be and which features of the Asian approach to commercial law will be resistant to reform pressures This book examines the prospects for commercial law reform in Asia giving particular attention to Japan and Singapore as frequently cited role models for Asian developmentalism and also examining development related business laws in countries such as China Korea Indonesia Malaysia Vietnam and the Philippines

The Political Economy of the Asian Financial Crisis Stephan Haggard, 2010-10-01 The Asian crisis has sparked a thoroughgoing reappraisal of current international financial norms the policy prescriptions of the International Monetary Fund and the adequacy of the existing financial architecture To draw proper policy conclusions from the crisis it is necessary to understand exactly what happened and why from both a political and an economic perspective In this study renowned political scientist Stephan Haggard examines the political aspects of the crisis in the countries most affected Korea Thailand Malaysia and Indonesia Haggard focuses on the political economy of the crisis emphasizing the longer run problems of moral hazard and corruption as well as the politics of crisis management and the political fallout that ensued He looks at the degree to which each government has rewoven the social safety net and discusses corporate and financial restructuring and greater transparency in business government relations Professor Haggard provides a counterpoint to the analysis by examining why Singapore Taiwan and the Philippines escaped financial calamity

The Battle for Asia Mark T. Berger, 2004-03 This book is a history of the Asian region from 1945 to the present day which delineates the various ideological battles over Asia s development

Southeast Asia's

Industrialization K. Jomo, 2001-10-02 Drawing on a wide range of expertise this volume addresses fundamental issues surrounding industrialization in Southeast Asia which are particularly pressing now that the region's miracle has been transformed into a debacle and the world seeks to draw lessons from the experience The contributors address crucial questions such as How did Southeast Asia industrialize What have been the consequences of domination by foreign investment Did the region's resource wealth weaken its imperative to industrialize Why else has Southeast Asia's industrialization been inferior to the rest of the East Asian region Did the countries' financial systems help industrialization Was this industrialization sustainable The volume includes detailed studies of Singapore Malaysia Thailand and Indonesia

Loggers and Degradation in the Asia-Pacific Peter Dauvergne, 2001-10-15 Corporate loggers have damaged much of the tropical forest throughout the Asia Pacific over the last four decades Despite a steady rise in global and local concern few firms have changed their practices Loggers and Degradation in the Asia Pacific examines why and how loggers have resisted and ignored calls for environmental reforms Concentrating on the period after 1990 the book explains what is happening on the ground and highlights the structures within which firms and governments operate Within this broader context the author considers a range of factors including the science of tropical forest management the capacity of states to regulate and enforce rules the relative power of environmental reformers and the 1997-9 Asian financial crisis This is a constructive insightful approach to a depressing yet urgent problem It will be accessible to academic and student readers as well as those in corporations government and NGOs

A Region of Regimes T. J. Pempel, 2021-09-15 A Region of Regimes traces the relationship between politics and economics power and prosperity in the Asia Pacific in the decades since the Second World War This book complicates familiar and incomplete narratives of the Asian economic miracle to show radically different paths leading to high growth for many but abject failure for some T J Pempel analyzes policies and data from ten East Asian countries categorizing them into three distinct regime types each historically contingent and the product of specific configurations of domestic institutions socio economic resources and external support Pempel identifies Japan Korea and Taiwan as developmental regimes showing how each then diverged due to domestic and international forces North Korea Myanmar and the Philippines under Marcos comprise rapacious regimes in this analysis while Malaysia Indonesia and Thailand form ersatz developmental regimes Uniquely China emerges as an evolving hybrid of all three regime types A Region of Regimes concludes by showing how the shifting interactions of these regimes have profoundly shaped the Asia Pacific region and the globe across the postwar era

Political Transitions in Dominant Party Systems Joseph Wong, Edward Friedman, 2008-10-27 This is a path breaking study by leading scholars of comparative politics examining the internal transformations of dominant parties in both authoritarian and democratic settings The principle question examined in this book is what happens to dominant political parties when they lose or face the very real prospect of losing Using country specific case studies top rank analysts in the field focus on the lessons that dominant parties might learn from losing and the adaptations they consequently make in order to survive to remain competitive or to ultimately re gain power

Providing historical based comparative research on issues of theoretical importance Political Transitions in Dominant Party
Systems will be invaluable reading for students and scholars of comparative politics international politics and political parties
