Algeria In France Transpolitics Race And Nation New Anthropologies Of Europe:

Algeria in France Paul A. Silverstein, 2004-10-01 Algerian migration to France began at the end of the 19th century but in recent years France's Algerian community has been the focus of a shifting public debate encompassing issues of unemployment multiculturalism Islam and terrorism In this finely crafted historical and anthropological study Paul A Silverstein examines a wide range of social and cultural forms from immigration policy colonial governance and urban planning to corporate advertising sports literary narratives and songs for what they reveal about postcolonial Algerian subjectivities Investigating the connection between anti immigrant racism and the rise of Islamist and Berberist ideologies among the second generation Beurs he argues that the appropriation of these cultural political projects by Algerians in France represents a critique of notions of European or Mediterranean unity and elucidates the mechanisms by which the Algerian civil war has been transferred onto French soil Colonial Memory and Postcolonial Europe Andrea L.

Smith, 2006-08-21 Intersects with very active areas of research in history and anthropology and links these domains of inquiry spanning Europe and North Africa in a creative and innovative fashion Douglas Holmes Binghamton University Maltese settlers in colonial Algeria had never lived in France but as French citizens were abruptly repatriated there after Algerian independence in 1962 In France today these pieds noirs are often associated with Mediterranean qualities the persisting tensions surrounding the French Algerian War and far right anti immigrant politics Through their social clubs they have forged an identity in which Malta not Algeria is the unifying ancestral homeland Andrea L Smith uses history and ethnography to argue that scholars have failed to account for the effect of colonialism on Europe itself She explores nostalgia and collective memory the settlers liminal position in the colony as subalterns and colonists and selective forgetting in which Malta replaces Algeria the true homeland which is now inaccessible fraught with guilt and contradiction The study provides insight into race ethnicity and nationalism in Europe as well as cultural context for understanding political trends in contemporary France Labor Disorders in Neoliberal Italy Noelle J. Molé, Noelle Molé Liston, 2012 Psychological harassment at work or mobbing has become a significant public policy issue in Italy and elsewhere in Europe Mobbing has given rise to specialized counseling clinics a new field of professional expertise and new labor laws For Noelle J Mol mobbing is a manifestation of Italy's rapid transition from a highly protectionist to a market oriented labor regime and a neoliberal state She analyzes the classification of mobbing as a work related illness the deployment of preventive public health programs the relation of mobbing to gendered work practices and workers use of the concept of mobbing to make legal and medical claims with implications for state policy labor contracts and political movements For many Italian workers mobbing embodies the social and psychological effects of an economy and a state in transition Muslim and Catholic Experiences of National Belonging in France Carol A. Ferrara, 2024-09-05 How do experiences of national identity and belonging differ for French Muslims and Catholics respectively What can these differences tell us about the causes and dynamics of minority marginalization in plural secular societies To address these questions Carol Ferrara draws upon extensive ethnographic fieldwork across France within spaces of religious education and interfaith dialogue illustrating the inequities between Muslim and Catholic citizens in opportunities for national belonging political and civic engagement and institution building This reexamination of Muslim exclusion against the backdrop of Catholic inclusion calls into question popular explanations for minority marginalization especially those that blame non adherence to French Republican principles or the exclusionary power of secular discourse Instead Ferrara argues that the boundaries of French belonging are policed by francit a tacit national imaginary ideal type that draws upon and reproduces national cognitive biases and undermines the French republican values of secularism equality liberty and fraternity Given the central role of francit in the politics of belonging Ferrara suggests that paths toward greater pluralism in France and beyond lie in the reframing of national identity narratives and reimagining the inclusive potential of secular democratic values

On the Social Life of Postsocialism Daphne Berdahl, 2010 Anthropologist Daphne Berdahl was one of the leading scholars of the transition from state socialism to capitalism in central and eastern Europe From her pathbreaking ethnography of a former East German border village in the aftermath of German reunification to her insightful analyses of consumption nostalgia and citizenship in the early 21st century Berdahl's writings probe the contradictions paradoxes and ambiguities of postsocialism as few observers have done This volume brings together her essays from an early study of memory at the Vietnam War memorial in Washington D C to research on consumption and citizenship undertaken in Leipzig in the years before her untimely death It serves as a superb introduction to the development of the field of postsocialist cultural studies

Religious Freedom at Risk Melanie Adrian, 2015-09-30 This book examines matters of religious freedom in Europe considers the work of the European Court of Human Rights in this area explores issues of multiculturalism and secularism in France of women in Islam and of Muslims in the West The work presents legal analysis and ethnographic fieldwork focusing on concepts such as la cit submission equality and the role of the state in public education amongst others Through this book the reader can visit inside a French public school located in a low income neighborhood just south of Paris and learn about the complex dynamics that led up to the passing of the 2004 law banning Muslim headscarves The chapters bring to light the actors and cultures within the school that set the stage for the passing of the law and the political philosophy that supports it School culture and philosophy are compared and contrasted to the thoughts and opinions of the teachers administrators and students to gage how religious freedom and identity are understood The book goes on to explore the issue of religious freedom at the European Court of Human Rights The author argues that the right to religious freedom has been too narrowly understood and is being fenced in by static visions of Islam This jeopardizes the idea of religious freedom more broadly By becoming entangled with regional and domestic politics the Court is neglecting important nuances and is jeopardizing secularism pluralism and democracy This is a highly readable and accessible book that will appeal to students and scholars of law anthropology religious studies and philosophy of religion

2004 Hypersexuality and Headscarves Damani J. Partridge, 2012-02-17 In this compelling study Damani J Partridge explores citizenship and exclusion in Germany since the fall of the Berlin Wall That event seemed to usher in a new era of universal freedom but post reunification transformations of German society have in fact produced noncitizens non white and foreign Germans who are simultaneously portrayed as part of the nation and excluded from full citizenship Partridge considers the situation of Vietnamese guest workers left behind in the former East Germany images of hypersexualized black bodies reproduced in popular culture and intimate relationships and debates about the use of the headscarf by Muslim students and teachers In these and other cases which regularly provoke violence against those perceived to be different he shows that German national and European projects are complicit in the production of distinctly European noncitizens
