All-American Ads of The 30s Jim Heimann, 2025-09-29 It was the best and worst of times Prohibition ended boosting alcohol sales but the Great Depression gripped and the threat of war loomed again Yet commerce thrived with ads flaunting witty copy and ever more creative visuals pushing the new affordable luxuries like department store fashion movie magazines and modern linoleum floors 30s Jim Heimann, 2003 1900-1919 Jim Heimann, 2005 Provides a pictorial tour of

Twitchell, 2004-09-08 Branding says James Twitchell is nothing more than commercial storytelling brands are the stories that are associated with products For example the special taste of Evian says Twitchell is in the brand not the water Branding has become so successful so ubiquitous that even institutions that we thought were above branding antithetical to branding have succumbed Such cultural institutions as religion higher education and the art world have learned to love Madison Avenue or lose market share Of course most ministers university presidents and museum directors will insist that branding has nothing to do with them but as Twitchell brilliantly demonstrates in this witty insightful examination of three of our most important cultural institutions wherever supply exceeds demand branding follows The rise of the megachurch epitomizes branding in religion From its inception the megachurch was designed not to compete with other churches but to bring in the unchurched especially men worshippers who might otherwise be home watching television or strolling through the mall on a Sunday morning The megachurches have been phenomenally popular none more so than Willow Creek Community Church just south of Chicago one of the oldest megachurches which Twitchell analyzes in Branded Nation Colleges and universities have embraced branding as they have grown more alike Especially among the top schools in the country the student bodies the faculties often even the campuses themselves are practically interchangeable What distinguishes each school is the story it tells about itself Now every institution of higher learning has its image organizers its brand managers usually in the admissions or development offices whose job it is to make their institution seem different from all the rest Even museums with their multimillion dollar Monets have seen the advantages of branding The blockbuster exhibitions often put familiar paintings in a new context that is they provide a new narrative branding the art Museums keep expanding their stores placing them not just near the entrance on the ground floor but throughout the museum in the galleries themselves Some museums such as the Guggenheim even franchise themselves turning the institution itself into a brand In short high culture is beginning to look more and more like the rest of our culture In perhaps his most subversive observation Twitchell doesn't condemn the branding of cultural institutions On the contrary he believes that branding may be invigorating our high culture bringing it to new audiences making it a more integral part of our lives Not since Bobos in Paradise has there been such a trenchant provocative analysis of our world

The Golden Age of Advertising-- the 50s Jim Heimann, 2005 Second in a series of books featuring advertising by era All American Ads of the 50s offers page after page of products that made up the happy days decade The start of the cold war spurred a buying frenzy and a craze for new technology that required ad campaigns to match The nuclear age left its mark all over the advertisements with a spotlight on planes rockets and even mushroom clouds Shiny big beautiful cars abound styled to keep up with the space age Editor Jim Heimann in his essay From Poodles to Presley Americans Enter the Atomic Age explains Car designers came up with exaggerated tail fins for automobiles to express this new accelerated speed Modernist home interiors look slick and shiny with their molded plastic furniture and linoleum floors While clothing and furniture styles look strangely contemporary a testament to our current obsession with vintage some things have definitely changed A baby sells Marlboro cigarettes Also included are chapters on movies food and travel J P Cohen

The Hundred Year Diet Susan Yager, 2010-05-11 A lively cultural history of the American weight loss industry that explores the origins of our obsession with dieting As a nation battling an obesity epidemic we spend more than 35 billion annually on diets and diet regimens Our weight is making us sick unhappy and bigger than ever and we are willing to hand over our hard earned money to fix the problem But most people don't know that the diet industry started cashing in long before the advent of the Whopper The Hundred Year Diet is the story of America's preoccupation with diet deprivation and weight loss From the groundbreaking measurement of the calorie to World War I voluntary rationing to the Atkins craze Susan Yager traces our relationship with food weight culture science and religion She reveals that long before America became a Fast Food Nation or even a Weight Loss Nation it was an Ascetic Nation valuing convenience over culinary delight Learn how one of the best fed countries in the world developed some of the worst nutritional habits and why the respect for food evident in other nations is lacking in America Filled with food history cultural trivia and unforgettable personalities The Hundred Year Diet sheds new light on an overlooked piece of our weight loss puzzle its origins
